252:100-8-51.1. [AMENDED]

Appendix Q. Incorporation by Reference [REVOKED]

Appendix Q. Incorporation by Reference [NEW]

SUMMARY:

The Department is proposing to amend several definitions in OAC 252:100, Subchapter 1, General Provisions, and Subchapter 8, Permits for Part 70 Sources and Major New Source Review (NSR) Sources, to align the Department's definitions with those promulgated by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA). The gist of this rule change and the underlying reason for the rulemaking is so that the State's rules are not less stringent than the federal rules, thereby ensuring that the Department retains the PSD and Title V programs.

The Department is proposing to update OAC 252:100, Appendix Q, Incorporation by Reference. The gist of this rule and the underlying reason for the rulemaking is to incorporate the latest changes to EPA regulations relating to the National Emission Standards for Hazardous Air Pollutants (NESHAP) and New Source Performance Standards (NSPS). In addition, the Department is proposing to update language in Subchapter 2, Incorporation by Reference, to reflect the latest date of incorporation of EPA regulations in Appendix Q.

[OAR Docket #16-730]

RULEMAKING ACTION:

Notice of proposed PERMANENT rulemaking

PROPOSED RULES:

Subchapter 3. Incorporation by Reference
252:205-3-2. [AMENDED]

SUMMARY:

The purpose of the proposed amendment is to update the Incorporation by Reference date in our state rules and thereby correct an error discovered from a previous rulemaking that resulted in state rules not being equivalent to federal rules. More specifically, the 2014-15 rulemaking incorporated by reference the entirety of 40 CFR Part 261 with two exceptions. Section 261.4(b)(18) was excluded because it specifically referred to the state of Utah and thus was not applicable in Oklahoma. However, by the 2014-15 rulemaking, that specific citation had expired and EPA re-used it for a part of the new Solvent Wipes Rule. DEQ intended to incorporate that new rule in its entirety but instead reincorporated the original exclusion. The gist of the rule, therefore is to reincorporate Part 261 without excluding 261.4(b)(18). The previous intentional exclusion of Part 261.150 is not affected.

TITLE 252. DEPARTMENT OF ENVIRONMENTAL QUALITY CHAPTER 606. OKLAHOMA POLLUTANT DISCHARGE ELIMINATION SYSTEM (OPDES) STANDARDS

[OAR Docket #16-731]

RULEMAKING ACTION:

Notice of proposed PERMANENT rulemaking.

PROPOSED RULES:

Subchapter 1. Introduction
252:606-1-4. Date of federal regulations incorporated
[AMENDED]

SUMMARY:

The gist of this rule and the underlying reason for the rulemaking is to ensure the Oklahoma Pollutant Discharge Elimination System (OPDES) is in compliance with the Department's delegation agreement and to ensure Oklahoma retains responsibility for administering the National Pollutant Discharge Elimination System (NPDES) Program in Oklahoma. The Department proposes to update its rules concerning the date of the incorporation by reference for the Code of Federal Regulations from July 1, 2015, to July 1, 2016. The most significant federal regulation updates being incorporated are an update regarding electronic reporting for NPDES; an update to the effluent limitations guidelines and standards (ELGs) for the steam electric power generating industry; and an update that establishes pretreatment standards that prevent the discharge of pollutants in wastewater from onshore unconventional oil and gas (UOG) extraction facilities to publicly owned treatment works (POTWs). The electronic reporting update will modernize the reporting of NPDES discharge program information from paper-based reporting to electronic reporting. The ELGs update establishes nationally applicable limits on the amount of toxic metals and other harmful pollutants that coal-fired steam electric power plants are allowed to discharge. The pretreatment standards for the discharge of pollutants in wastewater from onshore UOG extraction facilities to POTWs will help protect the operational integrity of POTWs.

ANALYSIS:

The permanent rule allows the Oklahoma Aeronautics Commission (OAC), when federal Non-Primary Entitlement (NPE) funds are being transferred from one airport sponsor to another, to provide half of the required local match for the airport sponsor receiving the NPE funds so long as it will save OAC non-appropriated state funds. While the Commission will have to spend $8,300.00 each time this rule is triggered, which allows it to assist an airport sponsor with the required local match, the savings insofar as the Commission's non-appropriated state funds will exceed this expense. The Commission will use its non-appropriated funds for these expenditures and there will be no impact on state appropriated funds as the Commission receives no appropriated funds.

25:15-1-2. Definitions

The following words or terms, when used in this Chapter, shall have the following meaning, unless the context clearly indicates otherwise:

"Aeronautics Commission" means the Oklahoma Aeronautics Commission, the state agency ~~organizational unit~~ responsible for administering airport aviation grant programs for the State of Oklahoma and the Federal Aviation Administration.

"Capital Improvement Program" means a list of airport capital projects approved by the ~~Aeronautics~~ Commission for implementation within a three-year planning horizon showing a description of the project, the cost of each phase of the project, when the project is expected to occur, and the sources of funding.

"Biennial Element" means a list of those projects in the Capital Improvement Program scheduled for implementation in the most immediate two-year period.

"Airport Development Worksheet" means a listing of the capital projects needed at an airport over a twenty-year planning horizon together with the estimated cost, construction type, objective code, and airport component for each project. Projects identified for a particular airport must be consistent with the service level, functional classification, design standard, and airport reference code identified for the airport in the Oklahoma Airport System Plan. An airport development worksheet is developed and maintained for each system plan airport that is not part of the National Plan of Integrated Airport Systems (NPIAS) cooperatively by the airport sponsor and the ~~Aeronautics~~ Commission staff.

"Airport Sponsor" or "Municipality" is used interchangeably throughout this chapter. Either term means any incorporated city, village, or town of this state, any public institution of higher education, and any county or political subdivision or district of this state, or any public trust thereof, which is, or may be, authorized by law to acquire, establish, construct, maintain, improve, and operate airports, airstrips, and aeronautical facilities. To be eligible for the state grant program, the airport sponsor must be one of the governmental entities referenced in the preceding sentence and included in the Oklahoma Airport System Plan. Nothing herein precludes two or more of these entities from acting jointly as an airport sponsor. In the event a public trust is the airport sponsor, the beneficiary of that public trust must also be a record owner of the airport property.

"Oklahoma Airport System Plan" means the plan, adopted by the ~~Aeronautics~~ Commission, which identifies the airports included in the State's airport system and identifies the service level, functional classification, design standard, and airport reference code for each system airport.

"Administrative Official" means an official of the airport sponsor who is authorized to legally bind the airport sponsor.

"Emergency" means a condition that could not have been foreseen and which affects the safety of the airport sufficiently that the airport or runway may need to be closed if the situation is not remedied.

"FAA" means the Federal Aviation Administration, a unit of the U.S. Department of Transportation.

"Letter of Interest" means a letter expressing the desire of an airport sponsor to have one or more projects included in the Capital Improvement Program.

"Letter of Intent" means a letter expressing the desire of an airport sponsor to have one or more projects included in the Biennial Program.

"Notification Letter" means correspondence prepared by the ~~Aeronautics~~ Commission staff informing an airport sponsor that one or more of their projects have advanced to the Biennial Program of the Capital Improvement Program. The letter sets forth the terms the ~~Aeronautics~~ Commission imposes on airport sponsors participating in the state grant program, describes the project, authorizes the airport sponsor to begin engineering work for the project and directs the sponsor to prepare a grant application.

"Airport Layout Plan" means the basic plan for the layout of an airport that shows, as a minimum the present boundaries of the airport and of the offsite areas that the airport sponsor owns or controls for airport purposes, and of their proposed additions. It will include the location and nature of existing and proposed airport facilities such as runways, taxiways, aprons, terminal buildings, hangars and roads, and of their proposed modifications and extensions. Also, it will provide the location of existing and proposed non-aviation areas, and of their existing improvements.

"NPIAS Needs Worksheets" are identical to Airport Development Worksheets with the difference being that these are maintained for NPIAS airports.

"Non-Primary Entitlement" or "(NPE) funds" are FAA Airport Improvement Program (AIP) funds set aside for general aviation airports listed in the National Plan of Integrated Airport Systems. These airports can each receive up to $150,000 per year based on the FAA assessment of needs over a 5 year period.

25:15-1-3. Planning

(a) Planning and Programming Process.

(1) The ~~Aeronautics~~ Commission staff shall, in consultation with airport sponsors, prepare and maintain the Oklahoma Airport System Plan. The Commission shall adopt and approve changes to the plan.

(2) The ~~Aeronautics~~ Commission staff shall assist publicly owned, publicly used airports in identifying airport needs and deficiencies. Airport sponsors eligible to participate in grant programs are sponsors of publicly owned, public use airports included in the Oklahoma Airport System Plan. The ~~Aeronautics~~ Commission staff shall, in consultation with each airport sponsor, prepare and maintain an airport development worksheet for each airport included in the Oklahoma Airport System Plan. The airport development worksheet shall be reviewed and updated at least once every three years. The airport development worksheet shall identify the capital projects needed at the airport over a 20 year planning horizon, together with the estimated cost, construction type, objective code, and airport component for each project. The identified projects shall be consistent with the service level, functional classification, design standard, and airport reference code identified for the airport in the Oklahoma Airport System Plan.

(3) The ~~Aeronautics~~ Commission staff shall, in consultation with airport sponsors, prepare and update annually the Capital Improvement Program. The ~~Aeronautics~~ Commission shall approve the Capital Improvement Program.

(b) Capital Improvement Program Content.

(1) The Capital Improvement Program shall contain a list of proposed State and FAA funded projects that can be implemented with forecast revenues within the three year planning horizon.

(2) Projects included for an airport in the Capital Improvement Program shall be consistent with service level, functional classification, design standard, and airport reference code identified for the airport in the Oklahoma Airport System Plan.

(3) The Capital Improvement Program shall show the proposed sources of funding for each project.

(4) The Capital Improvement Program shall show the proposed implementation schedule for each project.

(5) The Capital Improvement Program shall include other priorities, policies, and procedures as adopted by the ~~Aeronautics~~ Commission.

(c) Capital Improvement Program Development.

(1) The Capital Improvement Program lists projects for which expenditures are expected to begin within the three-year planning horizon.

(2) On a two-year cycle, the ~~Aeronautics~~ Commission staff shall update the NPIAS needs database and the ADWS database (for Non-NPIAS airports). To update the Commission's database, sponsors will use FAA's Overall Development Objective (ODO) data sheet for each requested project.

(3) The ~~Aeronautics~~ Commission staff shall evaluate projects in the NPIAS and ADWS databases and recommend projects for inclusion in the Capital Improvement Program based on:

(C) The airport's pavement condition index, pavement life-cycle consideration as developed by the pavement management program.

(D) The National Priority Rating System developed by FAA and included in FAA's Order 5100.39 titled Airports Capital Improvement Plan.

(E) The amount of aviation activity, the types of airplanes served, the numbers of based airplanes at the airport, and the population included in the airport's service area.

(F) Other factors as may be relevant (for example, the services provided at the airport, the sponsor's demonstrated ability to maintain and operate the airport, the sponsor's ability to address safety inspection deficiencies, etc.)

(G) An emergency project request, with verifiable justification, may be submitted to the ~~Aeronautics~~ Commission for inclusion in the Capital Improvement Program any time.

25:15-1-4. Programming Implementation Airport Grant Program Requirements and Procedures

(a) Contingency. Implementation of an airport grant program is contingent upon funding being available to the ~~Aeronautics~~ Commission for this purpose.

(b) Notification to Proceed.

SUBCHAPTER 1. GENERAL PROVISIONS

35:15-1-2. Definitions

The following words or terms, when used in this Subchapter, shall have the following meaning unless the context clearly indicates otherwise:

"Accredited veterinarian" means a veterinarian approved by the United States Department of Agriculture (USDA) to perform functions required for state or cooperative state and federal animal disease control and eradication programs.

"Animal disease traceability" means the ability to trace an animal to its site of application of official identification and/or premises of origin as set out in 9 CFR Parts 71, 77, 78, 86, et al. Traceability for Livestock Moving Interstate; Final Rule.

"Approved tagging site" means a premises, authorized by APHIS, State, or Tribal animal health officials, where livestock may be officially identified on behalf of their owner or the person in possession, care, or control of the animals when they are brought to the premises.

"Backtag" means a USDA approved identification system consisting of a tag of special tough paper, bearing identification codes relating to origin of animals, which are stuck to animals a few inches from the midline and just behind the shoulder with very strong glue. The backtag is designed as temporary identification for easy reading in livestock auction markets to help trace the origin of livestock in Department investigations.

"Certificate of veterinary inspection" means an official document or its electronic equivalent approved by the chief livestock official of the state of origin issued by an accredited veterinarian at the point of origin of a shipment of animals that includes the name and address of the consignor; the name and address of the consignee; the entry permit number, if applicable; the age, sex, number, and breed of the animal; sufficient identifying marks or tags to positively identify each animal; purpose of shipment; and the results of all required tests. It shall also include a record of a physical examination of the animal verifying that each animal is free from visible evidence of any contagious, infectious, or communicable diseases and that the animals do not originate from an area of quarantine, infestation, or infection. A certificate of veterinary inspection is valid for thirty (30) days after the date of issuance. The term certificate of veterinary inspection shall also include an official health certificate, an official certificate, or a certificate.

"Commuter herd" means all cattle under common ownership or supervision, that are located on one (1) or more premises in two (2) or more states and there is an interchange or interstate movement of animals between premises in those states as part of the normal farming, breeding or ranching operation without a change of ownership. A commuter herd agreement shall be completed and approval of commuter herd status shall be obtained from each chief animal health official of all states in which the herd resides.

"Designated epidemiologist" means an epidemiologist selected by the State Veterinarian who has been designated to perform those functions necessary for the classification of livestock suspected to be infected with a particular disease, based on an evaluation of test results and consideration of the animal and herd history, as well as other epidemiological factors.

"Official identification" means any official method of identification approved by USDA, as described by 9 C.F.R. § 86.1, or the State Veterinarian. Official identification for specific species may be further defined within the applicable section of the Oklahoma Administrative Code. Backtags shall not be considered official identification unless the animal is shipped directly to slaughter. The term "official eartag" is synonymous with "official identification."

"Owner-Shipper statement" means a statement signed by the owner or shipper of the livestock being moved stating the location from which the animals are moved interstate; the destination of the animals; the number of animals covered by the statement; the species of animal covered; the name and address of the owner at the time of the movement; the name and address of the shipper; and the identification of each animal, as required by the regulations, unless the regulations specifically provide that the identification does not have to be recorded.

"Quarantine" means a written notice or order issued by an authorized agent of the Department showing the boundaries of the area or premise affected, the animals restricted, and conditions, if any. No livestock held under quarantine may be moved or released without a written permit or quarantine release signed by an authorized agent.

ANALYSIS:

The rules add absconding to the list of reportable violations and provide a definition for absconding. The rules make changes to the retest and confirmatory test requirements to address problems with reporting retest violations and confirmatory test results. The rules create time frames for the manufacturer to take certain required actions in the event of a service center inactivation or revocation. The rules provide vendors an alternative to having a licensed ignition interlock technician on site at all times. The proposed rules also eliminate some confusing references to the Board's website.

- (a) Inactivation. Inactivation refers to the voluntary or temporary discontinuance of a license.
 - (1) A service center license may be inactivated by the Board:
 - (A) Upon request from the vendor or service center manager, or
 - (B) If the service center no longer employs at least one (1) licensed ignition interlock technician.
 - (2) A licensed service center whose license has expired or no longer meets all the requirements for licensure shall be inactivated.

 - (4) Inactivation shall be used for administrative program control to safeguard the scientific integrity of the device program.
- (b) Suspension. Suspension refers to the immediate curtailment of a license.

- (1) Suspension of a service center license may be initiated by a designated representative of the Board when, because of unreliability, incompetence, or violation of these rules, the service center is not in compliance with the provisions stated in these rules or when, in the opinion of the designated representative of the Board, the continuance of such licensure would not uphold the scientific integrity of the device program and enforcing these rules.
 - (2) Upon suspension the designated representative of the Board shall provide the vendor and service center manager with a notice and order of suspension of the service center license specifying the basis for the suspension.
 - (3) The Board, in its sole discretion, shall determine the period of suspension.
 - (4) A suspension curtails any license issued to the service center for the period of suspension until reinstatement of the license.
 - (5) During the period of suspension, the suspended service center may continue to provide service to existing participants but shall not be able to generate official installation verification forms until the license has been reinstated.
 - (6) Suspension shall be for the purpose of maintaining the scientific integrity of the device program and enforcing these rules.

- (1) A service center license may be revoked by the Board when, in the opinion of the Board, the service center no longer meets the requirements of these rules because of unreliability, incompetence, or violation of these rules, or in any case where, in the opinion of the Board, continuance of licensure would not uphold the scientific integrity of the ignition interlock program.
 - (2) A revocation cancels any license issued to the service center for the period of revocation.
 - (3) The Board, in its sole discretion, shall determine the period of revocation.
 - (4) Upon revocation, the Board shall forward the notice and order of revocation of the service center license to the vendor and service center manager specifying the basis for the revocation.
 - (5) During the period of revocation, the revoked service center shall cease any and all activities related to the installation, maintenance and calibration, removal and any other services related to any device in the state of Oklahoma.
 - (6) Licensure of a service center whose license has been revoked will require a written request from the applicant to the Board and successful completion of the original requirements for licensure outlined in this subsection.
 - (7) Revocation shall be for the purpose of maintaining the scientific integrity of the device program and enforcing these rules.

Permanent Final Adoptions

(d) A manufacturer shall be responsible for providing continuing service by a licensed service center during the installation period, without interruption, should a service center's license be inactivated or revoked. The vendor, on or before the effective date of an order for inactivation or revocation shall cause the immediate cessation of installation, maintenance and calibration, removal and any other services related to any device at the inactivated or revoked service center. Any inactivated or revoked service center shall not be able to generate official installation verification forms.

(e) If the inactivated or revoked service center is being replaced by the manufacturer, the new licensed service center must be located within 40 driven miles, as determined by the Board, of the service center that was inactivated or revoked. Failure of the manufacturer to license a new service center in accordance with this paragraph within 30 days of the inactivation or revocation will subject the manufacturer to the provisions of paragraph (f) of this rule. All reasonable efforts shall be made by the manufacturer representative to obtain participant records and data from the service center being replaced and provide them to the new licensed service center. The new licensed service center shall credit each participant all monies paid to the inactivated or revoked service center by the participant for deposits, unrealized lease or services.

(f) If the new licensed service center is not located within 40 driven miles, as determined by the Board, of the inactivated or revoked service center or the inactivated or revoked service center is not being replaced within the timeframe established by paragraph (e) of this rule, the manufacturer shall:

- (1) Make all reasonable efforts to obtain participant records and data from the service center being inactivated or revoked.
- (2) Be responsible for, and shall bear the cost of:
 - (A) Removal of the installed device and facilitate the simultaneous installation of another certified device of the participant's choice, regardless of the manufacturer of the device being substituted or the location of the licensed service center chosen by the participant.
 - (B) Retrieval of the device removed by a licensed service center representing a different manufacturer. Upon removal, the licensed service center removing the original device shall notify the vendor, as soon as possible, of the original device as to where the original device may be retrieved.
- (3) Reimburse the participant, within 30 days of removal of the original device, all monies paid to the inactivated or revoked service center by the participant for deposits, unrealized lease or advance payments remitted on behalf of the participant for unrealized services.
- (4) The manufacturer shall make every reasonable effort to notify all participants effected by the inactivation or revocation of a service center's license 30 days before the inactivation or revocation will occur, or as soon as is possible.

ANALYSIS:

The Attorney General is required to adopt and promulgate rules and standards for certification of domestic violence and sexual assault programs in this state. These rules set forth the requirements which are necessary to provide services pursuant to 74 O.S. § 18p-1 et seq. Amendments are necessary to screen for strangulation and head trauma. Amendments are also necessary to clarify the requirement for programs to provide victims with access to emergency transportation to SANE exams twenty-four (24) hours a day. Several sections in the standards did not include guidelines for determining compliance; amendments will correct this. Amendments are also necessary to correct grammatical errors and formatting.

ANALYSIS:

The Attorney General is required to adopt and promulgate rules and standards for certification of batterers intervention programs (BIPs) in this state. These rules set forth the requirements which are necessary to provide services pursuant to 74 O.S. § 18p-1 et seq. Amendments are necessary to include referrals from DHS as well as the courts. PURSUANT TO THE ACTIONS DESCRIBED HEREIN, THE FOLLOWING RULES ARE CONSIDERED FINALLY ADOPTED AS SET FORTH IN 75 O.S., SECTIONS 250.3(5) AND 308(E), WITH AN EFFECTIVE DATE OF SEPTEMBER 11, 2016:

SUBCHAPTER 1. GENERAL PROVISIONS

75:25-1-2.1. Underlying Philosophy

(a) The philosophy underlying the standards and criteria for batterers intervention programs is that:

- (1) battering is instrumental, strategic, and purposeful behavior designed to bring about a particular outcome.
- (2) therapy will not work on those who chose to batter, because it is not the underlying emotions that are the core issue, but the thinking process. Therapy fails with the batterer because a batterer cannot be relied upon to be honest.

(3+) battering is primarily a sociocultural issue that is criminal in nature;

(4) battering is never justified;

(5) battering is not caused by disease, diminished intellect, alcoholism/addiction, intoxication, mental illness or any external person or event;

(6) batterers are solely responsible for their actions and must be held accountable for their abusive behavior;

(7) the use of violence and coercion is a choice, decision or a tactic;

(8) no behavior of the victim causes or excuses domestic violence;

(9) because batterers choose to use violence, they can also choose to stop violence and eliminate coercive control and other controlling tactics from their intimate relationships;

(10) intervention services recognize that batterers can learn alternatives to violent and coercive behavior such as mutuality, shared decision making, trust negotiation and fairness; and

(11) safety for the victims/survivors and their dependents is the primary focus of intervention and services.

(b) Although women can perpetrate violence against their partners, the vast majority of BIPs are addressaddressing men's violence against towards women. Therefore, in this Chapter the male pronouns are used for batterers while female pronouns are used for the partners, except in the context wherein same-sex relationship violence or women's use of force is specifically discussed.

ANALYSIS:

This chapter sets forth the rules, including standards and criteria, used in certifying sexual assault programs and shelters for adult victims/survivors of sexual violence as a result of human sex trafficking pursuant to 74 O.S. § 18p-6. Although similarities exist between services provided to victims of domestic or sexual violence and victims of sex trafficking, there are also important differences between the two groups of victims. Victims of human sex trafficking are often eligible for special benefits including housing, legal assistance and refugee services that differ from the types of services that are available to domestic violence or sexual violence victims. Because certification of services for human sex trafficking is relatively new to Oklahoma, this chapter requires many amendments. When the chapter was originally codified in 2011, it was based largely on the standards for sexual assault services in 75 OAC 15. After careful review, the Domestic Violence & Sexual Assault Advisory Council recommended that the Attorney General amend the current chapter to more specifically meet the needs of victims of human sex trafficking and their children. These amendments include: stressing the importance of client safety and confidentiality, reflecting the clients' right to self-determination, incorporating definitions that were unintentionally omitted from the chapter, redefining core services and orientation training to more accurately meet the needs of human sex trafficking survivors and requiring programs to conduct an annual employee name search against the Sex Offenders Registration Act and the Mary Rippey Violence Crime Offenders Registration Act.

PURSUANT TO THE ACTIONS DESCRIBED HEREIN, THE FOLLOWING RULES ARE CONSIDERED FINALLY ADOPTED AS SET FORTH IN 75 O.S., SECTIONS 250.3(5) AND 308(E), WITH AN EFFECTIVE DATE OF SEPTEMBER 11, 2016:

SUBCHAPTER 1. GENERAL PROVISIONS

75:30-1-1. Purpose

This chapter sets forth the rules, including standards and criteria, used in certifying sexual assault programs and shelters for adult victims/survivors of sexual violence as a result of human sex trafficking pursuant to 74 O.S. § 18p-6. Human sex trafficking occurs when a person uses force, fraud, or coercion to get a victim to perform sexual acts for commercial reasons. The victim is recruited, transferred, harbored, obtained or moved by a person. The person uses force, fraud, coercion, abduction, threat, deception or the abuse of power to gain control over the victim. The victim is exploited for forced labor, involuntary servitude, slavery, and/or debt bondage of commercial sex acts. Under state and federal law, the use of minors for commercial sexual activity is a severe form of trafficking, even if there is no force, fraud or coercion. Minors are intended to be served under a different program. However, minors may still need immediate medical care, housing, food, clothing and other services to assure safety until they can be transferred. Although similarities exist between services provided to victims of domestic or sexual violence and victims of human sex trafficking, there are also important differences between the two groups of victims. International ~~Victims~~ victims of human sex trafficking are often eligible for special benefits including housing, legal assistance and refugee services that differ from the types of services that are available to domestic ~~violence~~ human sex trafficking or sexual violence victims. These standards serve as guidance in understanding, providing and advocating for the needs of victims of human sex trafficking. The rules regarding factors relating to the process to determine status as a certified program including, but not necessarily limited to, applications, fees, requirements for and administrative sanctions, are found in OAC Title 75, Chapter 1.

75:30-1-1.1. Mission and underlying philosophy

- (a) The mission of the standards and criteria for programs serving adult victims of sexual assault is to eliminate human sex trafficking in the State of Oklahoma.
- (b) The philosophy underlying the standards and criteria for victims of human sex trafficking is that:
 - (1) All persons have the right to live without fear, abuse, oppression and violence;
 - (2) No one deserves to be victimized by assaultive or abusive behavior;
 - (3) Survivors should be treated with dignity and respect;
 - (4) All people involved in violent crimes are affected, including victims, children, families, partners, friends, the community, and perpetrators;
 - (5) Perpetrators must be held accountable for their behavior;
 - (6) A coordinated community response is the best approach to eliminating human sex trafficking in Oklahoma;
 - (7) Safety for the victims/survivors and their dependents is the primary focus of intervention and services;
 - (8) Intervention and services shall be based upon the safety and well-being of individuals and communities. Services to victims are provided in a non-judgmental, non-coercive, trauma-informed environment; and
 - (9) Participation in victim/survivor services is voluntary and based on self-determined needs, preferences and values.

(C) Housing Assistance Emergency Shelter Grants 42 U.S.C. § 11375 (c)(5) Grant recipients are required to implement procedures to ensure confidentiality of records pertaining to any individual who is provided family violence prevention or treatment services. All grant recipients must also certify that the address of the family violence shelter will not be made public without permission of the agency; ~~and~~

(D) Stewart B. McKinney Homeless Assistance Act 42 U.S.C. § 11301. - (5) Following investigation, the Complaint Committee shall review and determine whether the Request for Inquiry should be dismissed, referred for informal resolution as there appears to be a violation of the Act but does not appear to be sufficient evidence to support a revocation, suspension or probation of a license, or to proceed with authorizing the filing of a Formal Complaint and the issuance of a Notice of Hearing by the Assistant Attorney General.
- (f) Summary Suspension. After the filing of a Formal Complaint seeking revocation or other action and the issuance of a Notice of Hearing by the Assistant Attorney General, but prior to the final hearing on the merits of said Formal Complaint, in the event of an emergency, a summary suspension hearing may be held as set forth herein. ANALYSIS:

The rules set forth Oklahoma's new subject matter standards for the study of English Language Arts (ELA) in Pre-Kindergarten through Grade 12. House Bill 3399 (2014) directed the State Board of Education to adopt ELA standards in consultation with the State Regents for Higher Education, the State Board of Career and Technology Education, the Oklahoma Department of Commerce, and the public. The State Board of Education approved the new Oklahoma Academic Standards for ELA on January 28, 2016, and submitted the standards for legislative review. PURSUANT TO THE ACTIONS DESCRIBED HEREIN, THE FOLLOWING RULES ARE EFFECTIVE AS OF SEPTEMBER 11, 2016:

SUBCHAPTER 3. PRIORITY ACADEMIC STUDENT SKILLS OKLAHOMA ACADEMIC STANDARDS

PART 5. LANGUAGE ARTS

210:15-3-24. English Language Arts education

(a) Goal of English language arts education. The overarching goal of English language arts education in Oklahoma is to develop curriculum and instruction that is appropriately engaging, challenging, and sequenced for the students. The students are supported to possess the skills required to analyze, evaluate, act upon, and compose a wide range of communications with the goal of becoming independent, critical readers and writers. The ultimate goal of language arts education is for students to grow increasingly independent for college and career readiness and to be informed citizens who can contribute to the common good.

Permanent Final Adoptions

(b) Format of the standards. The Oklahoma College- and Career- Ready English Language Arts Standards consist of eight overarching English Language Arts standards for pre-kindergarten through high school students. All eight of the standards for each grade level are to be examined as a whole to have a coherent understanding of what is required. Each of the eight standards establishes objective performance criteria for reading and writing. The content to be emphasized and assessed at specific grade levels are clearly identified with the knowledge and skills delineated at the appropriate level. The eight standards are to be used to develop curriculum and instruction that is appropriately engaging, challenging, and sequenced for students. The eight standards are intertwined to develop the total literacy of a student and overlaps grades to interconnect the progression of language arts for the recursive integration of concepts and skills. The progression should reflect a grade-level appropriate relationship between the level of critical thinking students use and the actual listening, speaking, reading, and writing experiences students have, and allows for the development of the total literacy of a student.

210:15-3-25. Definitions

The following words and terms, when used in this Part, shall have the following meaning, unless the context clearly indicates otherwise:

"Abbreviation" means a shortened or contracted form of a word or phrase, used to represent the whole, as Dr. for Doctor, U.S. for United States, and lb. for pound.

"Academic vocabulary" means to refer to words associated with content knowledge. Within every discipline there is a specific set of words to represent its concepts and processes.

"Active listening" means the active pursuit of what another person is saying and feeling, as a way to improve mutual understanding. Active listening involves hearing content, listening for tone, observing body language, paraphrasing, summarizing, questioning, clarifying, and reflecting.

"Affix" means a morpheme or meaningful part of a word attached before or after a root to modify its meaning. Principal kinds of affixes are prefixes and suffixes. The prefix un- is an affix, which added to balanced, makes unbalanced. The suffix -ed is an affix which, added to wish, makes wished.

"Alliteration" means the repetition of the same initial consonant sound of each word in connected text (e.g. Harry the happy hippo hula-hoops with Henrietta).

"Allusion" means a brief and indirect reference to a person, place, thing, or idea of historical, cultural, literary, or political significance.

"Analogy" means a comparison of the similar aspects of two different things.

"Annotation" means a critical or explanatory note or body of notes added to a text.

"Antagonist" means the adversary of the hero or protagonist of a drama or other literary work.

"Antonyms" means words which have opposite meanings (e.g. hot and cold).

"Automaticity" means reading without conscious effort or attention to decoding.

"Base" means a free morpheme to which affixes can be added, usually of Anglo-Saxon origin.

"Blending" means the task of combining sounds rapidly to accurately represent the word.

"Cause and effect" means text structure that notes a relationship in which an event or events (the cause) makes(s) another event or action happen (effect).

"Claim" means an assertion of the truth of something.

"Close reading" means a strategy that requires a student to focus on and arrive at a deep understanding of individual texts by reading and re-reading. Fisher, Frey, and Lapp (2012) describe four reader roles that help the reader uncover meaning in a text:

(A) Code Breaker understanding the text at the surface level (i.e. alphabetic, structural).

(B) Meaning maker comprehending the text at the level intended by the author.

(C) Text user analyzing the factors that influenced the author and the text, including a historical grounding of the context within which it was written.

(D) Text critic understanding that the text is not neutral and that existing biases inform calls to action.

"Coherence" means continuity of meaning that enables others to make sense of a text.

"Collaborative discussions" means discussions that provide opportunities for speakers and listeners to use dialogue and interaction to raise issues, explore ideas, make claims, discover differences, and find ways to explore all aspects of ELA. These take many forms like a Socratic seminar, debate, or blog and combine students in small or large discourse communities.

"Compare" means find similarities between two or more texts or text elements.

"Comparison" means text structure in which ideas are related to one another on the basis of similarities and differences. The text presents ideas organized to compare, to contrast, or to provide an alternative perspective.

"Comprehension" means understanding what one is reading, the ultimate goal of all reading activity.

"Conflict" means struggle or clash between opposing characters, forces, or emotions.

"Connotation" means a meaning that is implied by a word apart from the thing it describes explicitly. Words carry cultural and emotional associations or meanings in addition to their literal meanings or denotations.

"Consonant blend" means two or more consecutive consonants that retain their individual sounds (e.g. /bl/ in block; /str/ in string).

ANALYSIS:

The rules set forth Oklahoma's new subject matter standards for the study of Mathematics in Pre-Kindergarten through Grade 12. 70 O.S. § 11-103.6a(B) directed the State Board of Education to adopt Mathematics standards in consultation with the State Regents for Higher Education, the State Board of Career and Technology Education, and the Oklahoma Department of Commerce, as well as stakeholder input through public comment. The State Board of Education approved the Mathematics standards on January 28, 2016. 70 O.S. § 11-103.6a-1(A) provides that all subject matter standards adopted by the State Board of Education are subject to legislative review, and the standards were submitted to the Legislature for review on February 1, 2016. Failure of the Legislature to adopt a joint resolution approving or disapproving the standards within thirty (30) legislative days after submission resulted in the standards being deemed approved pursuant to 70 O.S. § 11-103.6a-1(C) as of March 23, 2016. 70 O.S. § 11-103.6a-1(E) directs the State Board of Education to submit final approved standards for publication in the Oklahoma Administrative Code in the same manner as agency rules.

PART 7. MATHEMATICS

210:15-3-40. Overview grades 1 through 5 [REVOKED]

~~Developmentally appropriate mathematics curriculum for Grades 1 through 5 must encourage the exploration of a wide variety of mathematical ideas and promote in-depth levels of understanding by focusing on the key concepts and processes. Programs should fit the needs of the learner. Student success depends largely on the quality of the foundation that is established during the first years of school. The mathematics curriculum for Grades 1 through 5 must:~~

~~(1) Help children develop conceptual understanding of number, space, and situational problems by designing explorations and investigations that make use of everyday objects and specially designed materials (e.g., base 10 blocks).~~

~~(2) Actively involve children in doing mathematics with extensive and thoughtful use of manipulatives (concrete materials) in an environment that encourages children to develop, discuss, test, and apply ideas.~~

~~(3) Develop newly introduced mathematics concepts by beginning instruction with concrete experiences, progressing to pictorial representations and culminating with abstract symbols.~~

- (4) Require appropriate reasoning and problem solving experiences from the outset, instilling in students a sense of confidence in their ability to think and communicate mathematically, to detect patterns, and to analyze data.
- (5) Emphasize the power of mathematics in helping children understand and interpret their world and solve problems that occur in it.
- (6) Include a broad range of content by incorporating an informal approach to measurement, geometry, data analysis, and patterns (algebra). This helps students see the usefulness of mathematics and establishes a foundation for further study.
- (7) Provide appropriate and ongoing use of technology by enabling children to explore number ideas and patterns; to focus on problem solving processes, and to investigate realistic applications. Calculators do not replace the need for students to be fluent with basic facts, have efficient computation strategies, be able to compute mentally, and do paper and pencil computation.

210:15-3-50. Overview high school [REVOKED]

- (a) ~~The PRIORITY ACADEMIC STUDENT SKILLS (PASS) in mathematics for high school establishes a framework for a curriculum that reflects the needs of all students. Such a curriculum recognizes that they will spend their adult lives in a society increasingly dominated by technology and quantitative methods.~~
- (b) A broadened view of mathematics will include the traditional topics of algebra and geometry but must also include the mathematical processes of problem solving, communication, reasoning, connections, and representation. Although they are stated separately for emphasis, these process standards should be integrated throughout the high school core curriculum.

- (e) A school's curriculum in mathematics should be organized to permit all students to progress as far into the mathematics proposed here as their achievement with the objectives allows. Schools should use this material to create a curriculum most beneficial to their students. Those students planning to continue their mathematics education should study additional advanced mathematics topics such as trigonometry and calculus.
- (d) The curriculum is intended to provide a common body of mathematical ideas accessible to all students. It is recognized that students entering high school differ in many ways, including mathematical achievement, but it is believed these differences are best addressed by extensions of the proposed content rather than by deletions.
- (e) The increasing role of technology in instruction will alter the teaching and learning of mathematics. Calculators and computers should be integrated throughout the curriculum so that students will concentrate on the problem solving process as well as the calculations associated with problems.

(a) Goal of Mathematics education. The overarching goal of the Oklahoma Academic Standards for Mathematics is for all Oklahoma students to become mathematically proficient and literate through a strong mathematics program that emphasizes and engages problem solving, communicating, reasoning, connections, and representations. The students are supported to learn the skills to be proficient and literate students and to confidently and effectively use mathematics concepts, computation skills, and numbers to problem-solve, reason, and analyze information. The clear, concise, and rigorous mathematics standards are to have Oklahoma students be college and career ready. Students will develop a deep and flexible conceptual understanding, fluency, problem solving strategies, mathematical reasoning and disposition which will have students be ready for the mathematics expectations of college and the skills desired by many employers.

(b) Format of the standards. The Oklahoma Academic Standards for Mathematics are developed around four main content strands. All four standards engage and develop skills and abilities to problem solve, communicate, and reason. The standards specify what students should know and be able to do at the end of each grade level or course. The standards are flexible in organization with high expectations and support for all students. The standards stimulate curiosity, create enjoyment of mathematics, and develop depth of understanding. The standards focus on problem solving and allows for reflective thinking for a deeper knowledge of mathematics. The standards enhance technology that is essential in teaching and learning mathematics.

"Conditional statement" means a statement of the form, "If P, then Q," where each of P and Q and themselves statements. Example: "If it rains, then the streets get wet," is a conditional statement. If the conditional statement "If P, then Q," is true, then this means that it is never the case that the statement P is true while the statement Q is false. Example: it will never be the case that "it rained" but "the streets are not wet." Related statements are:

"Counting on" means a strategy for finding the number of objects in a group without having to count every member of the group. Example: if a stack of books is known to have 8 books and 3 more books are added to the top, it is not necessary to count the stack all over again; one can find the total by counting on - pointing to the top book and saying "eight," following this with, "nine, ten, eleven. "Visual fraction model" means a diagram or representation to show the relative size of a fraction, for example, a tape diagram, number line diagram, or area model.

"Volume" means a measurement of the amount of space within a closed three-dimensional shape. Volume is often measured in terms of "cubic units," in which 1 cubic unit is the amount of space within a cube that measures 1 unit by 1 unit by 1 unit (for a given unit of length). Example: volume may be measured in "cubic centimeters," 1 cubic centimeter being the amount of space within a 1cm by 1cm by 1cm cube. Note that since one can measure the volume of a liquid by placing said liquid into a 3D shape, volume has historically been measure in various units such as cups, fluid ounces, and liters. Not that 1 cubic centimeter is equal to 1 milliliter, one way to connect such fluid units to cubic units.

"Whole numbers" means the numbers 0, 1, 2, 3, etc.

SUBCHAPTER 3. PRIORITY ACADEMIC STUDENT SKILLS OKLAHOMA ACADEMIC STANDARDS

PART 19. PHYSICAL EDUCATION

210:15-3-153. Overview for physical education [REVOKED]

- (a) The overall goal of Oklahoma's PRIORITY ACADEMIC STUDENT SKILLS (PASS) for Physical Education is to promote the health and well-being of each student and guide them toward becoming and physically active for life.
- (b) According to the National Association for Sport and Physical Education (NASPE), a physically educated person has learned skills necessary to perform a variety of physical activities, is physically fit, participates regularly in physical activity, knows the implications of and benefits from involvement in physical activity and its contribution to a healthy lifestyle.
- (c) The Priority Academic Student Skills (PASS) are categorized under three major areas: Motor Skill and Lifetime Activity Development; Health Enhancing Activity Development; and Personal and Social Skill Development. It is important to realize some skills are repeated because of the need for emphasizing those skills. Skills have been selected and placed under major headings to demonstrate the appropriateness of what is expected at the various grade levels.

210:15-3-163. Physical education

(a) Goal of physical education. The overarching goal of school physical education in Oklahoma is to ensure that school aged youth become physically literate individuals who possess the skills, knowledge, and dispositions to lead physically active lives. The physical education content standards and respective grade level-specific performance outcomes presented here provide the expectations that school programs and services will set for all Oklahoma students. An effective physical education program offers all students the opportunity to gain the needed skillfulness, knowledge, and dispositions toward physically active lifestyles. It is the responsibility of schools to provide opportunities for all students to become competent, literate, and enthusiastic movers, in ways that make physical activity a highly desired, enjoyable, and worthwhile experience. Students who participate in effective physical education programs receive a variety of benefits in the areas of movement skills, physical conditioning, and knowledge, so they can develop strategies and tactics to lead a physically active lifestyle.

(b) Format of the standards. The five physical education standards provide a framework for schools and physical educators across Oklahoma to develop an aligned physical education curriculum to ensure school aged students become physically literate. Grade-level objectives are provided for each standard, organized under the major concepts associated with the standard. For grades nine (9) through twelve (12), the standards are organized under Level 1 and Level 2 objectives rather than by specific grade level.

210:15-3-164. Definitions

The following words and terms, when used in this Part, shall have the following meaning, unless the context clearly indicates otherwise:

"Accuracy" means eighty percent (80%) successful performance or above; "reasonable accuracy" means sixty percent (60%) successful performance or above. Scores in the range of sixty percent (60%) to seventy-nine percent (79%) are considered reasonably accurate.

"Affective domain" means the domain in which the focus is on personal-social development, attitudes, values, feelings, motivations, and emotions. In the revised Bloom's taxonomy (Anderson et al., 2005), affective behaviors include receiving (willing to listen and hear), responding (willing to participate actively), valuing (willing to be involved, accept, and commit), organizing (willing to advocate and synthesize), and characterization (willing to change behavior, revise judgments, and cooperate).

"Analytic rubric" means an assessment and instructional tool that divides assignments or tasks into independent component parts with criterion behaviors defined for each part and across levels of the rubric. Each part is evaluated separately across levels, and learners receive feedback for each component part of the assignment or task. The assessment occurs on a continuum defined by criterion behaviors unique to each component.

"Applying" means learners can demonstrate the critical elements of the motor skills or knowledge components of the grade-level outcomes in a variety of physical activity environments.

"Aquatics" means water-based activities that might include, but not be limited to: swimming, diving, synchronized swimming, and water polo.

"Checklist" means an assessment and instructional tool that evaluates whether individual performance criteria are present or absent. It consists of a list of criterion behaviors, and evaluators simply determine yes, the criterion behavior is present, or no, the criterion behavior is not present. This type of assessment does not attempt to determine the quality of the response.

"Closed skills" means skills performed in a nondynamic environment that is constant, predictable, or stationery. The goal for performance is to produce movements or skills that are consistent and accurate because the environmental context is nondynamic, stable, and unchanging. Examples include performance sports such as gymnastics or diving, and target games such as darts and archery. See "Nondynamic environment".

"Cognitive domain" means the domain in which the focus is on knowledge and information (facts and concepts), with an emphasis on the understanding and application of knowledge and information through higher-order thinking skills. The revised Bloom's taxonomy (Anderson et. Al, 2005) identifies six levels of intellectual behaviors (remembering, understanding, applying, analyzing, evaluating, and creating), with increasing complexity at each level.

"Competency" means sufficient ability, skill, and knowledge to meet the demands of a specific task or activity. In this Part, competency is defined as the ability for individuals to participate at the recreational level with skill and ability in self-selected activities.

"Competitive advantage" means the advantage gained in a game situation when one team, either on offense or defense, has more players than the other team. For example, when two offensive players are against one defender, the team with two players has a competitive (offensive) advantage. If two offensive players face three defenders, the defensive has a competitive advantage.

"Content standard" means a statement that clearly describes the content that should be taught and learned during the PreK-Grade 12 years, grade by grade. Content standards articulate an essential core of knowledge and skills that students should master. Standards clarify what students are expected to know and be able to do at various points in their PreK-Grade 12 academic career.

"Contextual interference effect" means certain conditions (e.g., varying practice tasks) that depress performance during practice but actually produce higher levels of learning and retention.

"Criterion-referenced performance standards" means a type of assessment tool that compares learners' performance with a predetermined standard or set of criteria. Criteria are defined clearly, are delineated, and are task-specific.

"Critical elements" means the key components of a motor skill that can be observed, the sum of which result in movement efficiency.

Permanent Final Adoptions

"Dance and rhythmic activities" means activities that focus on dance or rhythms. Dance and rhythmic activities might include, but are not limited to, dance forms such as creative movement, ballet, modern, ethnic or folk, cultural, hip hop, Latin, line, ballroom, social, and square. Rhythmic activities for early elementary focus on recognizing and moving to rhythm. Rhythmic manipulative activities for elementary include, but are not limited to, lummi sticks, tinkling, Chinese ribbons, and ball gymnastics.

"Deliberate practice" means a highly structured activity, the explicit goal of which is to improve performance. Specific tasks are invented to overcome weaknesses, and performance is carefully monitored to provide cues for ways to improve further. Deliberate practice is purposeful and requires concentration on the part of the learner.

"Differentiated instruction" means that teachers vary instruction to address the needs of students and their various levels of skill or knowledge. Teachers differentiate instruction by modifying the learning environment (e.g., tiered learning activities), providing choices on equipment (e.g., increasing or decreasing the length of a racket), providing choices on the process (e.g., participate in modified game play or continue to practice), modifying practice (e.g., work alone or in a group), and facilitating self-directed activities (e.g., developing and implementing an individualized physical activity program).

"Dynamic environments" means skills are performed in an environment that is dynamic, unpredictable, and in motion ("open skills"). The goal for performers is to adapt movements in response to the dynamic and ever-changing environment. Examples include invasion games such as ultimate and soccer and net/wall games such as volleyball and tennis.

"Educational gymnastics" means gymnastics that focus on children challenging themselves to maneuver their bodies effectively against the force of gravity. The skills of balancing and transferring weight form the foundation of educational gymnastics. Educational gymnastics centers on challenges appropriate for each child at his or her skill level, as contrasted with Olympic gymnastics, which centers on defined stunts performed the same way by all students.

"Emerging" means learners participate in deliberate practice tasks that will lead to skill and knowledge acquisition. Learners are in the beginning stages of acquiring motor skills and knowledge. Mastery of the skills and knowledge is emerging through deliberate practice tasks and, at this stage, learners are developing competency.

"Etiquette" means expectations regarding behavior and social norms associated with specific games or activities; rules of behavior that define and provide parameters for appropriate participation in the activity or game.

"Fielding/striking games" means games in which teams occupy positions throughout the space (field) and the other team tries to score by batting or striking an object into open space in the field, providing enough time for the hitter to run between bases (or wickets). Examples include baseball, softball, and cricket. Strategies and tactics include effective placement of field players so that they can prevent scoring (defending team) and batting and striking the object with appropriate power to open spaces in the field (offensive team). Fielding decisions are based on the fielders' position and game situation, such as offensive runners' positions, outs, and score.

"Fitness activities" means activities with a focus on improving or maintaining fitness that might include yoga, Pilates, resistance training, spinning, running, fitness walking, fitness swimming, kickboxing, cardio-kick, Zumba, and exergaming.

"FITT" means frequency, intensity, time, and type, which are variables that are manipulated to create an overload.

"Fundamental motor skills" means the locomotor, non-locomotor or stability, and manipulative skills that provide the foundation for the more complex and sport-specific movement patterns used in games and sports.

"Games and sports" means the following game categories: invasion, net/wall, target, and fielding/striking.

"Grid activities" means activities using grids, squares or rectangles in which learners participate in modified game play using predetermined tactics or skills. For example, learners could practice such skills as give and go with a partner within a grid. The passer passes (gives) to a receiver and moves to another portion of the grid (goes) to receive a return pass. The sequence of passing (give) and moving to a new space on the grid (go) would be repeated for a predetermined amount of time (e.g., 45 seconds) with partners tracking the number of completed passes. Grids can vary in many ways, including size and shape, number of players within the grid, and with or without defensive pressure.

"Holistic rubric" or "Holistic rating scale" means an assessment and instructional tool that assigns a level of performance based on multiple criteria and evaluates the performance based on multiple criteria, and evaluates the performance as a whole. Learners must demonstrate all the identified criterion behaviors at a particular level for evaluators to determine whether the level has been achieved. Like all rubrics, holistic rubrics must define at least two levels.

"Individual-performance activities" means activities involving individual rather than team performance, and might include: gymnastics, figure skating, track and field, multisport events, in-line skating, wrestling, self-defense, and skateboarding.

"Invasion games" means games in which teams score by moving a ball (or a projectile) into another team's territory and either shooting into a fixed target (a goal or a basket) or moving the projectile across an open-ended target (line). To prevent scoring, one team must stop the other from bringing the ball into its territory and attempting to score. Strategies and tactics include using teammates to open space on offense (with or without the ball) and reduce space on defense. Decision making for offense includes when to pass, carry the ball, shoot, and move to create open space. Defenders must decide which players to cover and when to move to reduce space. Examples are basketball, ultimate, and soccer.

"Inverted position" means balances and transfers of weight in educational gymnastics in which the head is lower than the hips.

"Jab step" means an offensive skill executed by stepping sharply with one foot toward an opponent to cause the opponent to hesitate or go backward, thereby creating space for the offensive player.

"Knowledge of performance" means feedback based on the process and quality of the movement. The feedback is based on movement efficiency, timing, and rhythm of the movement pattern. Feedback is provided on specific critical elements of the movement.

"Knowledge of results" means feedback based on the outcome (product) of the movement that occurs after the action is completed (e.g., basket made or missed). Results indicate the degree of the success of the movement based on the environmental goal of the movement.

"Level 1 outcomes" means high school level outcomes reflecting the minimum knowledge and skills that students must acquire and attain by graduation to be college- or career-ready.

"Level 2 outcomes" means high school level outcomes that build on Level 1 competencies by augmenting knowledge and skills considered desirable for college or career readiness.

"Lifetime activities" means activities that are suitable for participation across the life span and that one can undertake alone or with a partner as opposed to a team. For the purposes of this Part, lifetime activities include the categories of outdoor pursuits, selected individual-performance activities, aquatics, and net/wall and target games.

"Locomotor skills" means skills that consist of a group of fundamental motor skills that allow individuals to navigate through space or move their body from one point to another. These include running, galloping, hopping, skipping, jumping, leaping, and sliding.

"Manipulative skills" means skills that require controlling or manipulating objects, such as kicking, striking, throwing, catching, and dribbling.

"Mature pattern" means executing with efficiency the critical elements of the motor skills pattern in authentic environments.

"Maturing" means demonstrating the critical elements of the motor skills and knowledge components of the grade-level outcomes, which will continue to be refined with practice. As the environmental context varies, a maturing pattern might fluctuate, reflecting more maturity in familiar contexts and less maturity in unfamiliar (new) contexts.

"Modified games" means small-sided games in which the rules have been modified to emphasize the skills taught in class (e.g., creating a penalty for dribbling to emphasize teaching students to pass rather than dribble).

"Motor patterns" means the fundamental motor skills that provide the foundation for more complex and sport-specific movement patterns used in games and sports. The six fundamental motor skills are running, jumping and landing, kicking, throwing, catching, and striking.

"Movement concepts" means the application of knowledge and concepts related to skillful performance of movement and fitness activities, such as spatial awareness, effort, tactics, strategies, and principles related to movement efficiency and health-enhancing fitness.

"MVPA" means Moderate to Vigorous Physical Activity.

"Net/wall games" means games in which teams or individual players score by hitting a ball into a court space with sufficient accuracy and power so that opponents cannot hit it back before it bounces once (as in badminton or volleyball) or twice (as in tennis or racquetball). Opponents generally are separated by a net, but in some cases (squash, racquetball), they share a court and the walls are in play. Offensive strategies and tactics are based on hitting to an open space or pulling the opponent out of position. Defensive strategies are reducing open space by good court position and anticipating the opponent's shot.

"Nondynamic environment" means skills performed in a nondynamic environment that is constant, predictable, or stationary. The goal for performance is to produce movements or skills that are consistent and accurate because the environmental context is nondynamic, stable, and unchanging. Examples include performance sports such as gymnastics or diving and target games such as darts and archery. See "closed skills".

"Nonlocomotor skills" means any movement that places a premium on gaining and maintaining one's equilibrium in relation to the force of gravity. Examples include axial movements (another term sometimes used for nonlocomotor movements) as well as inverted and rolling body postures. Also known as "stability skills".

"Norm-referenced" means a type of assessment tool that compares learners' performance with other similar learners' performances. Learners' relative standing (rank) is based on their performance in comparison with other learners in the same age group.

"Outcomes" means statements that specify what learners will know or be able to do as a result of a learning activity.

"Overload principle" means progressively placing greater stress or demands on the body during exercise to cause the body to adapt (become more fit). This is accomplished by manipulating the frequency, intensity, time (duration), and type (FITT) of activity.

"Player up" or "Player down" means a game situation in which one team has one more (e.g., 2v1) or one fewer (e.g., 1v2) player than the other team.

"Psychomotor domain" means the domain in which the focus is on motor skills. It includes physical movement, coordination, and the use of the motor-skill areas. Development of the skills requires practice and is measured in terms of speed, precision, distance, procedures, or techniques in execution.

"Rating scale" means an assessment and instructional tool that is similar to a checklist but provides added information on the extent to which criterion behaviors are met. That is accomplished by a gradation of criteria across levels. Gradation of performance can be differentiated by the number of times the behavior occurs (frequency) or by descriptions of performance at each level (quality).

"Receiving" means the skill of collecting a pass from a teammate with the hands, feet, or body.

Permanent Final Adoptions

"Rubric" means an assessment and instructional tool that identifies criterion behaviors for at least two levels of performance. Each level of the rubric identifies and describes criterion behaviors that contain essential elements of the tasks along a range or continuum of performance expectations.

"Small-sided games" means organized games in which the number of players involved is reduced from the conventional competitive version of the sport (e.g., 2v2 basketball, 3v3 volleyball, 6v6 lacrosse).

"Small-sided practice tasks" means small-sided games or deliberate tasks designed to practice particular skills or tasks.

"Striking" means a ballistic, propulsion skill with several forms, such as sidearm, underarm or overarm, one-handed and two-handed. Common examples include batting, hitting with a racket, and serving a volleyball.

"Target games" means games in which players score by throwing or striking an object to a target. Accuracy is a primary focus of the activity, and competitors share no physical contact. Target games are considered opposed (e.g., croquet, shuffleboard, bocce) because opponents may block or hit another player's ball to a less-desirable position. Other target games are considered unopposed (e.g., golf, bowling) because opponents may not interfere with a shot. Strategies or tactics are based on movement accuracy and consistency.

"Technology" means software, websites, devices, and applications used in a physical education setting to enhance teaching and learning.

"Volley" means to strike or give impetus to an object (e.g., volley-birds, foot bags, bamboo balls, volleyballs) by using a variety of body parts (e.g., hands, arms, head, knees).

ANALYSIS:

The amendments in Subchapter 3 of Chapter 10 are based on advice from the State Auditor and Inspector and from the Internal Revenue Service. FICA must be withheld from all compensation paid to County Election Board members and to part-time, election night help in the County Election Board office. For all elections not held in conjunction with a federal or state election, FICA must be paid through a County Election Board budget account by the County Clerk.

An amendment in Part 9 of Subchapter 7 is the result of a change in the procedure to process some fees, all of which are required by statute, paid by candidates for county offices. Other amendments concern changes in procedures for paying and reimbursing funds for compensation of County Election Board members, Precinct Officials, and Absentee Voting Board members.

PURSUANT TO THE ACTIONS DESCRIBED HEREIN, THE FOLLOWING RULES ARE CONSIDERED FINALLY ADOPTED AS SET FORTH IN 75 O.S., SECTIONS 250.3(5) AND 308(E), WITH AN EFFECTIVE DATE OF SEPTEMBER 11, 2016:

SUBCHAPTER 3. ELECTION PERSONNEL

PART 1. COUNTY ELECTION BOARD MEMBERS AND EMPLOYEES

230:10-3-10. Compensation claims for the Chairman and Vice Chairman

(a) Claims for compensation owed by the State Election Board must be filed on the County Board Member Claim forms provided by the State Election Board. Such claims shall be prepared by the County Election Board Secretary and filed promptly.

(b) In the event a meeting is held specifically to transact business for another governmental entity, such as a school district or a municipality, the entire cost of the meeting shall be paid by that entity. If more than one entity is involved in a meeting, the cost of the meeting shall be prorated among the entities that benefit from the meeting. For example, if five school districts are involved, the $35 paid to each Board member is prorated among the districts so that each will pay $7 plus one-fifth of the mileage reimbursement. The entity's share of the Board meeting will be included in the Record of Expense submitted to the entity following the election.

(c) When a school district election is held on the same day as a county election, the county pays all the cost of the County Election Board meeting to certify the election. However, if another entity such as a municipality also holds an election on the same day as the county and school district elections, the cost of the County Election Board meeting is divided equally between the county and the other entity and the school district pays nothing.

(d) All compensation owed to County Election Board members for meetings held for a county election that does not coincide with a state election, for which compensation is paid by the State Election Board, shall be paid by the County Clerk from a County Election Board budget account and FICA shall be withheld. Mileage reimbursement for County Election Board members may be paid either through a budget account by the County Clerk or through the Special Depository Account by the County Election Board Secretary.

The appropriate Pre-Election Expense Claim report in OEMS from MESA shall be used to submit these estimates to the entity authorizing the election. See 230:35-3-29 through 230:35-3-49.

It is used to receive funds such as filing fees, deposits for contests of candidacy, deposits for contests of election, funds for compensation of Precinct Officials, payments for school elections and payments for municipal elections. Deposits shall be made daily as funds are received, and disbursements shall be made as soon as legally possible. Any balance continuing in the Special Depository Account after all appropriate disbursements have been made shall only be from forfeited filing fees or from processing fees received for County Campaign Committee Statements of Organization only. The County Election Board Secretary shall be authorized to make expenditures from the amount of forfeited filing fees and processing fees in the Special Depository Account for any lawful purpose. [26:3-108]

230:10-7-82. Expenses paid through Special Depository Account

All other expenses are handled by submitting purchase orders to the County Clerk. The purchase orders are expenses then may be paid by the County Clerk with warrants drawn on the County Election Board's budget account or on another county account or they may be paid from the Special Depository Account after appropriate funds have been deposited there in payment of the purchase orders. For special county elections, only compensation for Precinct Officials, Absentee Voting Board members, and special purpose precinct workers are paid through the Special Depository Account. All other expenses for compensation and mileage reimbursements paid in connection with regular or special county elections not held in conjunction with a federal or state election for County Election Board members, for overtime and mileage reimbursement for County Election Board employees, and compensation for part-time help, are paid by submitting purchase orders to the County Clerk. ANALYSIS:

Two of the most significant provisions of the National Voter Registration Act are the "motor voter" and the "agency-based" voter registration services described in Sections 5 and 7 of the Act. "Motor voter" (Section 5) refers to the simultaneous application for or renewing of a driver license and for voter registration. The law requires that any person applying for or renewing a driver license or appearing in person to change address on a driver license must be offered the opportunity to apply for voter registration. "Agency-based" refers to the requirement that state agencies providing public assistance and agencies providing state-funded programs primarily engaged in services to persons with disabilities offer the opportunity to apply for voter registration when applying for, renewing, or re-certifying an application or when changing address on an existing application for services from such agency.

The amendments in Parts 23 and 25 are the result of a change in the language included on the Voter Registration Statement form. The Voter Registration Statement form is the formal offer of voter registration application services in all agencies required to provide voter registration application services. The change specifies that in the event a person leaves the Voter Registration Statement blank or refuses to sign the Statement, the agency employee must give the person an Oklahoma Voter Registration Application form to take home.

Other amendments are necessary to clarify the procedures for processing voter registration applications received in these agencies - for example, appropriately coding and dating the applications and preparing them to be sent by mail to the State Election Board at the close of business each week - and for the agencies to receive new supplies of the materials necessary to provide voter registration application services as required by law.

The amendments in Part 1 of Subchapter 11 are necessary to implement provisions from SB 114 that allow the State Election Board to utilize the National Change of Address and Social Security Administration death records. Other amendments reflect changes in the name of a form. As a cost-saving measure, three different forms for the cancellation of the registration of deceased voters have been combined.

Other amendments are necessary to update match criteria for true duplicate voter registrations, to authorize State Election Board staff to restore voter records if a match was made in error, and to exclude the voter from future deletion as a true duplicate due to the same erroneous match.

Amendments and/or revocations to Part 3 of Subchapter 11 are necessary to incorporate new sources of data, as authorized by SB 114, that may be used for address confirmation notices, including the National Change of Address data and to authorize the State Election Board to receive data from the United States Postal Service by electronic means for forwarded and for undeliverable confirmation notice cards.

PART 7. PROCEDURE FOR FILING

230:20-3-37. Checking Declarations

(a) The Secretary shall scrutinize all information on the Declaration of Candidacy form. The Secretary is advised to read each line of the Declaration aloud to the candidate and to spell out the candidate's name. Specifically, the Secretary shall confirm the following facts regarding the Declaration:

The candidate has provided his or her name on the first line of the Declaration of Candidacy as it is to appear on the ballot.

~~(4) The candidate has provided his or her full legal name on the second line of the Declaration of Candidacy form.~~

~~(4-5) The office sought is complete, including district number if required.~~

~~(5-6) The address of residence listed is within the county (or district) of the office sought.~~ a home rule charter city, in the charter. [26:5-117] If there are errors on the Declaration, the Secretary shall point out such errors to the candidate. For example, one common error is to indicate the current year in the date of birth instead of the actual year of birth. The candidate then shall correct the errors and sign his initials beside the correction. Only the candidate may make corrections on a Declaration of Candidacy.

(c) If the Declaration of Candidacy was received by mail or was delivered by someone other than the candidate, the Secretary shall indicate on the form that it was not received in person from the candidate by noting the letters "NIP" for "not in person" on the upper right corner.

(d) In the event that information provided on a candidate's Criminal History Disclosure Supplement form indicates that he or she is not eligible to become a candidate, the Declaration may be deemed invalid on its face and therefore may be rejected. However, the Secretary shall consult the District Attorney and the State Election Board before rejecting any Declaration of Candidacy for this reason.

230:20-3-38. Candidate's name

(a) ~~The candidate's name shall appear at the top of the Declaration of Candidacy form exactly the same as the candidate's signature appears at the bottom on the ballot exactly as it appears on the appropriate line of the Declaration of Candidacy form. A candidate who is generally known by or who does business using a nickname may choose to use that name on the Declaration of Candidacy. A married woman may use her maiden name on the Declaration of Candidacy form.

ANALYSIS:

A new Section in Chapter 25 sets a maximum length of 200 words for all propositions submitted by counties, school districts, technology center districts, and all municipalities, including charter cities. The word limit is based on statutory requirements for ballot titles for both state questions and county questions, as outlined in 34 O.S. § 9 and in 19 O.S. § 388. The new rule also includes requirements for verification by entity officials or representatives of the pre-press proofs of ballots containing propositions and provides that only typographic or scrivener's errors may be corrected as a result of such verification of proofs. Substantive additions or deletions of text may not be made during the proofreading process unless it can be shown that the text on the proof differs from the text provided in the resolution document submitted to the County Election Board. The new rule allows the entity to provide a separate document at each polling place that provides additional information about the proposition or that includes, in the case of an ordinance or of a charter amendment, the full text of said ordinance or amendment.

It must be noted that a survey of recent ballot titles for propositions considered in special elections shows that most propositions fall with the 200-word limit. The text commonly used for school or municipal bond issues is usually fewer than 200 words.

PURSUANT TO THE ACTIONS DESCRIBED HEREIN, THE FOLLOWING RULES ARE CONSIDERED FINALLY ADOPTED AS SET FORTH IN 75 O.S., SECTIONS 250.3(5) AND 308(E), WITH AN EFFECTIVE DATE OF SEPTEMBER 11, 2016:

SUBCHAPTER 13. PLACING PARTIES, CANDIDATES, PROPOSITIONS ON BALLOT

230:25-13-13. Ballot titles for county, municipal, and school district propositions

(a) The following requirements shall be observed by all entities when preparing the ballot title - the ballot text - for any question or proposition to be placed on the ballot at a regular or special election called by the entity and conducted by the County Election Board.

(1) Question or proposition text shall be submitted to the County Election Board in regular upper/lower case. Proposition text presented to the County Election Board in ALL CAPS will be returned to the entity for conversion to upper/lower case.

(2) Quotation marks and other typographic symbols, also known as "special characters," shall not be used in proposition text.

(3) Proposition text on the ballot shall not exceed 200 words in length.

(b) The County Election Board Secretary will provide entity officials with a proof copy of any ballot that includes a question or proposition. Entity officials are responsible for proofreading the ballot title for each question or proposition on the ballot against the ballot title as it appears in the resolution submitted to the County Election Board. Only typographical or scrivener's errors may be corrected in the ballot title at this point. No substantive additions or deletions to the ballot title may be made unless it can be shown that the ballot title on the ballot proof copy does not match the ballot title in the resolution adopted by the governing body of the entity and submitted to the County Election Board. Entity officials should complete the proofreading and notify the County Election Board Secretary in writing of the approval of the ballot proof or of any errors discovered within 48 hours of receiving the proof. The County Election Board Secretary will provide a form for approval and notation of errors with the ballot proof.

(c) The word limit for ballot titles established in (a) of this Section also shall apply to ballot titles concerning municipal charter amendments. However, the County Election Board may distribute copies of a document that includes either a detailed explanation of the content and effect of the charter amendment or amendments or copies of the actual amendments with absentee ballots and at all polling places within the entity's boundaries. Such document shall be prepared by entity officials or by the entity's legal counsel. The County Election Board shall be neither responsible nor liable for the content or accuracy of such document. The explanatory document shall be delivered to the County Election Board not more than 10 days following submission of the election resolution to the County Election Board Secretary. The entity shall choose one of the following options for duplication of the explanatory document.

(1) An appropriate appropriate number of copies of the explanatory document may be made at the entity's expense and delivered to the County Election Board Secretary for distribution with absentee ballots and at the polling places on election day.

(2) The entity shall supply the document to the County Election Board and the County Election Board produce an appropriate number of copies for which the cost shall be included in the Record of Expense submitted to the entity for the election.

ANALYSIS:

The new and amended rules in Chapter 35, Subchapters 3 and 5, reflect a change in the composition and title of publications used by all Precinct Officials at polling places on election day. For more than thirty years, the State Election Board has produced The Manual for Precinct Election Officials and the Precinct Problem Solver. These two publications used in concert by precinct workers contained all the necessary rules and procedures for conducting elections at the precinct level. A set of pre-printed forms also were used to implement various procedures and services for voters during voting hours.

In an effort to streamline these reference, instructional, and procedural materials, the State Election Board staff has combined the contents of the Manual and the Problem Solver, along with specific instructions for preparing and using the voting device, into a new publication entitled the Election Day Reference and Problem Solver. Numerous references to the precursor publications have been changed to reflect this new title.

The State Election Board Secretary is implementing certain changes in rules used to determine which Absentee Voting Board members are eligible to receive mileage reimbursement for the performance of their duties. Several sections concerning the compensation of Precinct Officials and Absentee Voting Board members are amended to clarify the requirements and procedures for paying compensation and mileage to these officials from the County Election Board Special Depository Account.

Since 1992, the Secretary of the State Election Board has had the authority under state law - 26 O.S. § 7-136 - to receive the certified final election results for federal and state elections from the County Election Boards either by electronic means or in writing. The State Election Board produces certification reports from final election results received electronically through the MESA system, as we did with its predecessor OEMS system from 1992 through 2011. We have, however, continued to require the County Election Board Secretary to mail a printed, signed, and sealed Official Certification Report to the State Election Board for all federal, state, legislative, and district elections. Such paper certification reports are collected, filed, and rarely, if ever, consulted.

By eliminating the requirement for County Election Boards to send to the State Election Board a paper certification report following every federal, state, or legislative election, the State Election Board will see reductions in the costs of paper supplied to the County Election Board Secretary and used for the production of these reports, for the time spent collecting and filing the reports, and the storage space required to retain these reports. We receive official returns from the County Election Boards electronically as allowed by law and can produce copies of the final results as certified by the County Election Boards. If a copy of a particular signed and sealed report ever is required, it can be obtained from the County Election Board. The County Election Board is required to retain permanently at least one paper copy of each election certification with the minutes of the meeting at which the election was certified. This procedural change also will reduce postage costs incurred by the County Election Boards sending the paper reports to the State Election Board.

Other proposed amendments concern the provisional voting procedure and the materials used to administer provisional voting both during early voting and at the precinct polling place on election day. The Oklahoma Provisional Ballot Affidavit form has been redesigned in an effort to make it easier both for Precinct Officials and voters to understand and use it appropriately. Instructions for Precinct Officials have been simplified to the extent possible. Certain clarifications concerning various proof of identity documents also have been added and new information about acceptable proof of identity documents has been added as a result of statutory changes.

Finally, the State Election Board has created a new form to be used to request the cancellation of the voter registration of a deceased voter. Over the years, three separate forms have been developed for this purpose to be used by different persons or in different locations. One was intended only for use at a polling place or in the County Election Board office by the next of kin of a deceased voter and was intended to be witnessed by an election official. One was intended to be used by nursing home administrators or licensed funeral directors to notify the County Election Board of the death of a county resident who may have been registered to vote. One was developed for distribution from the State Election Board's website for use by the next of kin of a deceased voter which could either be notarized or witnessed by two people. The new form can be completed by the next of kin, a nursing home administrator, or a funeral director, and may be witnessed by election officials, by a Notary Public, or by two persons who list their names and addresses on the form.

ANALYSIS:

The new rule in Subchapter 5 defines the elections in any two-election cycle required by a charter city for the election of municipal officers. The first such election shall be termed a "primary election" under this rule if all candidates for an office appear on the ballot and either a candidate who receives a majority of the total votes cast in the first election is deemed elected or, if no candidate receives a majority, the two candidates who receive the highest number of votes in the first election advance to a second election. The candidate who then receives the majority of votes cast at the second election is elected to the office. The second election in such a cycle shall be a "general election." This rule shall apply to all such two-election cycles regardless of the name given the election in a city's charter. These terms shall apply equally to partisan and to nonpartisan races in cities governed by charter when two elections are required to elect municipal officials.

(1) The first election in a two-election cycle shall be defined as a "primary" election. In a primary election, all candidates who file for a specific office appear together on the ballot and either the candidate who receives a majority of the total votes cast for the office is deemed elected or, if no candidate receives a majority, the two candidates receiving the most votes advance to a required second election.

(2) The second, required election in a two-election cycle shall be defined as a "general" election. In a general election, the candidate who receives the most votes is elected to the office.

ANALYSIS:

The Department is proposing to amend OAC 252:100-5, Registration, Emission Inventory and Annual Operating Fees, for consistency with the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) Air Emission Reporting Requirements (AERR) contained in Subpart A of 40 CFR Part 51. OAC 252:100-5-2.1 excludes de minimis facilities and permit exempt facilities from the requirement to submit an annual emission inventory to the Department. The Department proposes to revise Section 5-2.1 to require the submittal of an emission inventory by these facilities when required by the federal point source reporting thresholds contained in Table 1 to Appendix A of Subpart A, which the Department proposes to incorporate by reference. At this time, lead is the only pollutant listed on Table 1 to Appendix A that has an emission reporting threshold that is below the emission limits for permit exempt facilities and de minimis facilities. Although the language in 252:100-5-2.1 currently exempts de minimis facilities and permit exempt facilities from the requirement to submit an annual emission inventory, the Department believes that all facilities that are required by AERR to submit emission inventories are currently doing so, including those that emit 0.5 ton or more of lead per year.

PURSUANT TO THE ACTIONS DESCRIBED HEREIN, THE FOLLOWING RULES ARE CONSIDERED FINALLY ADOPTED AS SET FORTH IN 75 O.S., SECTIONS 250.3(5) AND 308(E), WITH AN EFFECTIVE DATE OF SEPTEMBER 15, 2016:

SUBCHAPTER 5. REGISTRATION, EMISSION INVENTORY AND ANNUAL OPERATING FEES

252:100-5-2.1. Emission inventory

(a) Requirement to file an emission inventory. The owner or operator of any facility that is a source of regulated air pollutants shall submit a complete annual emission inventory through DEQ's electronic reporting system or in another manner acceptable by the Division.

(1) General requirements. The inventory shall cover operations during a calendar year and shall be submitted on or before April 1 of the following year. Upon receiving a written demonstration of good cause the Director may grant an extension for submittal beyond the April 1 deadline.

(2) Permit by rule. The owner or operator of a facility registered under a permit by rule in Subchapter 7, Part 9, shall submit, at a minimum, an annual emission inventory for the 2014 reporting year or the calendar year in which the facility is registered, if the facility is registered after December 31, 2014, and thereafter according to the following schedule:

(A) For a registered facility with actual emissions greater than 5 tons per year of any regulated air pollutant, an annual emission inventory for that facility shall be submitted for every National Emissions Inventory (NEI) Three-Year Cycle Inventory year, as defined in 40 CFR Section 51.30(b).

(B) For a registered facility with actual emissions of 5 tons per year or less of any regulated air pollutant, an annual emission inventory for that facility shall be submitted every second National Emissions Inventory (NEI) Three-Year Cycle Inventory year, as defined in 40 CFR Section 51.30(b), beginning with the 2020 NEI reporting year.

(3) Permit exempt facilities and de minimis facilities. The owners or operators of permit exempt facilities or de minimis facilities, as these terms are defined in OAC 252:100-7-1.1, are not required to submit an annual emission inventory unless annual emissions from the facility exceed any of the emission thresholds listed in Table 1 in Appendix A to Subpart A of 40 CFR Part 51. In that event, the emission inventory shall be submitted according to the schedule contained in that table, which is incorporated by reference in Appendix Q to OAC 252:100.

(4) Special inventories. Upon request by the Director, the owner or operator of a facility that emits or has the potential to emit any regulated air pollutant shall file an emission inventory with the Division. The Director is authorized to request this inventory when emission related data is necessary for program planning or compliance with State or Federal rules, regulations, standards, or requirements.

(b) Content. All inventories submitted to the Division shall include, but shall not be limited to, the following:

(1) For those emissions subject to a permit, the permitted allowable emissions as set forth therein.

Permanent Final Adoptions

- (2) The amount of the actual emissions, including quantifiable excess emissions, and the basis for such determination. If the total actual emissions of any regulated air pollutant from a facility vary from the allowable or from the previous year's actual by more than 30%, the Department may require the owner or operator to provide an explanation for the difference in order to determine compliance with the Oklahoma Clean Air Act or any rule promulgated thereunder, or any permit condition prescribed or order issued pursuant thereto.
- (3) For those emissions not the subject of a permit and when requested by the AQD, a list of all OAC 252:100 rules setting forth emission limitations applicable to the facility in question and the maximum yearly allowable for the facility.
- (c) Documentation. All calculations and assumptions must be verified by proper documentation. All supporting data, including actual production, throughput and measurement records along with engineering calculations and other data utilized in accordance with OAC 252:100-5-2.1(d) must be maintained for at least 5 years by the current owner or operator at the facility in conjunction with facility records of the emission inventory. This information must either be submitted to the Division or made available for inspection upon request.
- (d) Method of calculation. The best available data at the time the emission inventory is or should have been prepared shall be used to determine emissions. It shall be the burden of the owner or operator to select the best available data, based on an acceptable method of calculation. The method of calculation used to determine emissions shall be binding upon the owner or operator and the Division for the purpose of calculating fees under OAC 252:100-5-2.2 unless challenged by the owner or operator prior to September 1 of the year the inventory is due or by the Division within six (6) months after the date the inventory is received. Acceptable methods of calculation for determining actual emissions are:
- (1) Emission factors utilized in the issuance of a currently applicable Oklahoma Air Quality permit(s) for the facility.
 - (2) Stack tests using appropriate EPA test methods, with advance notification and opportunity for observation by the Division.
 - (3) Stack tests using appropriate EPA test methods may be used for determining the emissions of identical equipment (i.e., same model, same location, and same operating conditions and parameters) when:
 - (A) Tests are performed by persons qualified by training and experience to perform said tests.
 - (B) Copies of the test results and methods are available for review by the Division.
 - (4) Continuous emissions monitoring data, when supported by required certification and calibration data.
 - (5) Current AP-42 factors or other factors acceptable to the Division.
 - (6) Manufacturer's test data, when approved by the Division as reliable.
 - (7) EPA and EPA-contracted industry-specific emission study data when it can be shown to be applicable to the facility in question and approved for use in the emission inventory by the Division.

(8) Fuel usage and other mass-balance methods when supported by specific records applicable to the materials on which the calculations are based and approved for use in the emission inventory by the Division.

(9) Any other method that can be shown to be reasonably accurate when supported by engineering data and calculations, and approved for use in the emission inventory by the Division.

(e) Methods of verification. Emission inventories determined by the Division to be substantially incomplete or substantially incorrect shall, upon the request of the Division, be subject to verification if not satisfactorily completed or corrected within a reasonable time. Verification shall be accomplished by an appropriate stack test using EPA approved methods, installation of continuous monitoring equipment, or other methods acceptable to the Division.

(f) Certification. The emission inventory shall contain certification by a responsible official of the truth, accuracy, and completeness of the document. This certification shall be signed by a responsible official and shall contain the following language: "I certify, based on information and belief formed after reasonable inquiry, the statements and information in the document are true, accurate, and complete."

ANALYSIS:

The Department is proposing to modify OAC 252:100-7, Permits for Minor Facilities, to add a new Permit By Rule (PBR) for emergency generator facilities. The PBR would simplify the permitting process for facilities whose only obligation to obtain a permit is due to the presence of an emergency generator engine that is subject to a federal standard. The PBR would also reduce the reporting requirements of the qualifying facilities from an annual emission inventory to once every three or six years (depending on emission amounts).

PURSUANT TO THE ACTIONS DESCRIBED HEREIN, THE FOLLOWING RULES ARE CONSIDERED FINALLY ADOPTED AS SET FORTH IN 75 O.S., SECTIONS 250.3(5) AND 308(E), WITH AN EFFECTIVE DATE OF SEPTEMBER 15, 2016:

SUBCHAPTER 9. EXCESS EMISSION REPORTING REQUIREMENTS

252:100-9-1. Purpose

This subchapter sets forth requirements for the reporting of excess emissions and establishes ~~affirmative defense provisions~~ mitigating factors for facility owners and operators requesting relief in an administrative penalty action brought by the Department for periods of excess emissions.

252:100-9-1.1. Applicability

This subchapter applies to the owners and operators of air contaminant sources that are subject to emission limitations in OAC 252:100, an enforceable permit, an administrative order or a judicial order. Fugitive VOC emissions covered by an existing leak detection and repair (LDAR) program that is required by a federal or state regulation should be reported in accordance with the applicable LDAR program.

252:100-9-2. Definitions

The following words and terms, when used in this subchapter, shall have the following meaning, unless the context clearly indicates otherwise:

"Bypass" means intentionally avoiding the use of air pollution control equipment.

"Excess emissions" means the emission of regulated air pollutants or opacity in excess of an applicable limitation or requirement as specified in the applicable rule(s), enforceable permit, administrative order or judicial order. ~~This term does not include fugitive VOC emissions covered by an existing leak detection and repair program that is required by a federal or state regulation.~~

"Excess emission episode" means a continuous period of excess emissions occurring from one emission unit.

"Excess emission event" means the period of time during which excess emissions occurred, either continuously or intermittently, as a result of the same primary cause. An excess emission event may include one or more excess emission episodes.

"Primary cause" means the fundamental aspect of the cause that can logically be identified. In the event of a series of causes, one leading to another, the fundamental cause is the primary cause.

"Working day" means 8:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. each day except Saturday, Sunday, or a legal holiday for state employees as proclaimed by the Governor.

252:100-9-8. ~~Affirmative defenses~~ Mitigation

(a) General. All periods of excess emissions regardless of cause are violations of the Act and rules promulgated thereunder, the Oklahoma Clean Air Act and rules promulgated thereunder, and applicable permit or other authorization of the DEQ. ~~An affirmative defense is provided to owners and operators for civil or administrative penalty actions for excess emissions during periods of startup, shutdown and malfunction.~~

(b) ~~Mitigating factors~~ Affirmative defenses for excess emissions during malfunctions. To establish that an incident of excess emissions resulted from malfunction ~~the affirmative defense and request to be relieved of a civil or an~~ administrative penalty in any action initiated by the Department to enforce an applicable requirement, the owner or operator of the facility must meet the requirements of OAC 252:100-9-7 and establish by a preponderance of the evidence:

- (1) The excess emissions were caused by a sudden and not reasonably preventable breakdown of air pollution control equipment or process equipment, or the failure of a process to operate in the normal or usual manner.
- (2) The excess emissions did not stem from any activity or event that could have been planned for or reasonably foreseen and avoided.
- (3) Repairs were made as expeditiously as possible.
- (4) The amount and duration of the excess emissions, including any bypass, were minimized to the extent practicable during periods of such emissions.
- (5) Reasonable steps were taken to minimize the impact of the excess emissions on ambient air quality.
- (6) The reason(s) any monitoring systems were not kept in operation, if applicable.
- (7) The owner or operator's actions during the period of excess emissions were documented by contemporaneous operating logs or other relevant evidence.
- (8) The excess emissions were not part of a recurring pattern indicative of inadequate design, operation or maintenance.
- (9) To the maximum extent practicable, the air pollution control equipment or process equipment was maintained and operated in a manner consistent with good practice for minimizing emissions; provided, however, that this provision shall not be construed to automatically require the shutdown of process equipment to minimize emissions.

(c) ~~Affirmative defenses~~ Alternative emission limits, and mitigating factors for excess emissions during startup and shutdown. Emissions in compliance with a federally enforceable alternative emission limit or means of compliance developed for inclusion in the facility's permit for periods of startup and shutdown shall not be considered excess emissions. Under applicable permitting provisions of this chapter, any such alternative provision may not establish an emission limitation less stringent than an applicable emission limitation in the EPA-approved state implementation plan. To establish the affirmative defense and to be relieved of a civil or request relief from an administrative penalty in any action initiated by the Department to enforce an applicable requirement during periods of startup and shutdown, the owner or operator of the facility must meet the requirements of OAC 252:100-9-7 and establish by a preponderance of the evidence:

- (1) The periods of excess emissions that occurred during startup and shutdown were short and infrequent and could not have been prevented through reasonable planning and design.
- (2) The excess emissions were not part of a recurring pattern indicative of inadequate operation or maintenance.

(3) If the excess emissions were caused by a bypass, the bypass was unavoidable to prevent loss of life, personal injury or severe property damage.

(4) The frequency and duration of operation in startup and shutdown periods were minimized to the extent practicable.

(5) Reasonable steps were taken to minimize the impact of excess emissions on ambient air quality.

(6) The reason(s) any monitoring systems were not kept in operation, if applicable.

(7) The owner or operator's actions during the period of excess emissions were documented by contemporaneous operating logs or other relevant evidence.

(8) The facility was operated in a manner consistent with good practice for minimizing emissions; provided, however, that this provision shall not be construed to require the use or installation of additional or redundant pollution control equipment not otherwise required and that this provision shall not be construed to automatically require the shutdown of process equipment to minimize emissions.

(d) ~~Affirmative defenses prohibited~~ Prohibited relief. ~~The affirmative defense~~ Any relief allowed under the provisions of this section shall not be available for:

- (1) Claims for injunctive relief.
- (2) SIP limits or permit limits that have been set taking into account potential emissions during startup and shutdown, including, but not limited to, limits that indicate they apply during startup and shutdown, and limits that explicitly indicate they apply at all times or without exception.

(3) Excess emissions that cause an exceedance of the NAAQS or PSD increments.

(4) Failure to meet federally promulgated emission limits, including, but not limited to, 40 CFR Parts 60, 61 and 63.

(5) Violations of requirements that derive from 40 CFR Parts 60, 61 and 63.

(e) ~~Affirmative defense~~ Mitigation determination. In making any determination whether to grant administrative penalty relief to a source established an affirmative defense under this section, the Director shall consider the information within the notification required in OAC 252:100-9-7 and any other information the Director deems necessary and relevant, which may include, but is not limited to, physical inspection of the facility and review of documentation pertaining to the maintenance and operation of emission units and air pollution control equipment. This section ~~should~~ shall not be construed as limiting to preclude EPA or citizens' authority under the Act federal court jurisdiction under Section 113 of the Act to assess civil penalties or other forms of relief for periods of excess emissions, to prevent EPA or the courts from considering the statutory factors for the assessment of civil penalties under Section 113, or to interfere with the rights of litigants to pursue enforcement consistent with their rights under the citizen suit provision of Section 304 of the Act.

The proposed rulemaking consists of three main elements. (1) The first element is to amend Chapter 410, Subchapter 1 (General Provisions) [See OAC 252:410-1-7(a)] to change the date for incorporation of federal regulations by reference to January 1, 2015. (2) The second element of this rulemaking is to make a correction in Subchapter 10 (Radioactive Materials Program) [See OAC 252:410-10-1(b)] from the 2013 rulemaking to exclude the definitions of "Construction" and "Commencement of Construction" which are reserved to the NRC. Also, in OAC 252:410-10-1(b) a new exclusion has been inserted pursuant to 10 CFR Part 37. (3) The third element of this rulemaking is to amend Subchapter 10, Part 1 (General Provisions) to conform the Oklahoma rules to the updated federal regulations which includes revisions to 10 CFR Part 40 and the addition of a new Part 37 that was established to provide physical protection for certain quantities of radioactive materials.

ANALYSIS:

The Department is proposing to amend OAC 252:515-1-1 by excluding solid waste disposal facilities used exclusively for disposal of coal combustion residuals, or coal ash, generated from the combustion of coal at electric utilities and independent power producers, from the applicability of OAC 252:515. In response to new federal rules on standards for the disposal of coal combustion residuals in landfills and surface impoundments, the Department is proposing to create a new Chapter, OAC 252:517, to regulate solid waste disposal facilities used exclusively for the disposal of coal combustion residuals generated from the combustion of coal at electric utilities and independent power producers. Therefore, it is proposed the provisions within OAC 252:515 currently applicable to the facilities in question will no longer apply, and those facilities will be regulated under OAC 252:517.

ANALYSIS:

The Department is proposing to create a new Chapter, OAC 252:517 (Disposal of Coal Combustion Residuals from Electric Utilities). The Department is proposing OAC 252:517 in response to the United States Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) promulgating 40 CFR Part 257, Subpart D which prescribes new requirements pertaining to the disposal of coal combustion residuals (CCR) generated from the combustion of coal at electric utilities and independent power producers. DEQ has incorporated the requirements of 40 CFR Part 257, Subpart D in its entirety and inserted, where appropriate, pertinent language to enable DEQ to permit CCR facilities and enforce the new Chapter.

DUE TO EXCESSIVE LENGTH OF THESE RULES (AS DEFINED IN OAC 655:10-7-12), THE FULL TEXT OF THESE RULES WILL NOT BE PUBLISHED. THE RULES ARE AVAILABLE FOR PUBLIC INSPECTION AT THE DEPARTMENT OF ENVIRONMENTAL QUALITY, 707 NORTH ROBINSON, OKLAHOMA CITY, OKLAHOMA 73102 AND AT THE SECRETARY OF STATE'S OFFICE OF ADMINISTRATIVE RULES. THE FOLLOWING SUMMARY HAS BEEN PREPARED PURSUANT TO 75 O.S., SECTION 255(B):

SUMMARY:

The Department is proposing to create a new Chapter, Oklahoma Administrative Code (OAC) 252:517 titled Disposal of Coal Combustion Residuals from Electric Utilities. The Department is proposing OAC 252:517 in response to the United States Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) promulgating 40 CFR Part 257, Subpart D which prescribes new requirements pertaining to the disposal of coal combustion residuals (CCR) generated from the combustion of coal at electric utilities and independent power producers. The EPA-promulgated regulations are self-implementing and apply to CCR disposal, without any further action by EPA or the Department, but are only enforceable through citizen suits. EPA and the regulated industry are both strongly in favor of DEQ oversight and enforcement, thus necessitating and precipitating this proposed rulemaking. The Department currently regulates the above-referenced CCR disposal, as set out in the Oklahoma Solid Waste Management Act at 27A O.S. § 2-10-101 et seq. and the rules promulgated thereunder at OAC 252:515 Management of Solid Waste, and also at OAC 252:616 Industrial Wastewater Systems. This rulemaking action is necessary to ensure there is only one set of regulatory standards for the disposal of the above-referenced CCR.

DEQ has incorporated the requirements of 40 CFR Part 257, Subpart D in their entirety and inserted, where appropriate, pertinent language to enable DEQ to permit CCR facilities and enforce the new Chapter. The included permitting and enforcement provisions were primarily taken from OAC 252:515. As a result, the proposed rulemaking is a compilation of state and federal requirements currently applicable to CCR disposal. The proposed rulemaking ensures the regulated industry is subject to one set of standards for CCR disposal and allows DEQ to oversee and enforce the standards.

In a separate, related rulemaking, DEQ is proposing to amend the applicability provisions of OAC 252:515, currently applicable to the disposal of CCR generated from the combustion of coal at electric utilities and independent power producers, as a result of this proposed rulemaking.

Related to this proposed rulemaking is a current concern in the state about seismic activity. This rulemaking includes requirements pertaining to seismic impact zones. However, these requirements will not prohibit new or existing CCR landfills from constructing or expanding in a seismic impact zone as long as all structural components of the landfill are designed to resist seismic risks as specified in the rule. Therefore, it is expected that there will continually be sufficient capacity in Oklahoma CCR landfills so that electric utilities do not have to go out of state to dispose of CCR

ANALYSIS:

The DEQ is proposing to update the date of the incorporation by reference of federal rules in OAC 252:606 from July 1, 2014 to July 1, 2015. The most significant federal rules to be incorporated are the cooling water intake rule, and the sufficiently sensitive method rule (SSMR). The cooling water intake rule is intended to protect aquatic life (for example, fish and shellfish) from becoming entrapped in the filtration screen of an intake structure or from being taken up into the cooling water system. The SSMR is intended to allow for detection of pollutants at levels that will be a more accurate indication of compliance with water quality standards.

Standard Method 5910B details this measurement method, however, for drinking water applications, samples need not be filtered or adjusted for pH or longer pathlength cuvettes, 4 cm to 5 cm should be used instead of 1 cm cuvette.

"UV dose" means the UV energy per unit area incident on a surface, typically reported in units of mJ/cm² or J/m². "UV medium-pressure lamp" means a mercury-vapor lamp that operates at an internal pressure of 1.3 to 13,000 Pa (2 to 200 psi) and electrical input of 50 to 150 W/cm. This results in a polychromatic (or broad spectrum) output of UV and visible light at multiple wavelengths, including wavelengths in the germicidal range.

"UV off-line chemical clean" means a process to clean lamp sleeves where the UV reactor is taken off-line and a cleaning solution (typically weak acid) is sprayed into the reactor through a service port.

"UV off specification" means a UV facility that is operating outside of the validated operating conditions (e.g. at a flow rate higher than the validated range or UVT below the validated range).

UV transmittance is often represented as a percentage and is related to the UV absorbance (A₂₅₄) by the following equation (for a 1 cm path length): % UV transmittance=100X10^{-A} where A is UV absorbance.

"Validated dose" means means the UV dose in units of mJ/cm² delivered by the UV reactor is determined through validation testing. The validated dose is compared to the required dose to determine log inactivation credit.

(H) Design for ease of maintenance and replacement of air delivery piping.

(I) Design the backwash water delivery system for 15 gal/min/ft² of filter surface area. Where design includes air scour, backwash water rate must be variable with a normal operating range up to 8 gal/min/ft² unless experience shows that a higher rate is necessary to remove scoured particles from filter media surfaces.

(11) Backwash. Make provisions for backwashing filters as follows:

SUBCHAPTER 3. OPERATIONS

252:631-3-1. PWS criteria

(a) All systems must properly operate, in accordance with a Operations and Maintenance manual as required by OAC

Permanent Final Adoptions

252:626-3-7. All systems must maintain each unit to provide treatment of the water in accordance with the DEQ approved plans and specifications, in accordance with the purpose for which the units were designed and according to the terms of their permits. Permits may contain more stringent provisions than contained in the rules to meet the requirements of the provisions of 40 CFR adopted by reference in this chapter. Employees must be trained in the proper operation and maintenance of the system.

(b) Public water supply systems must comply with all applicable Primary Drinking Water Standards in 40 CFR Part 141, which includes, but is not limited to, the following:

An accredited lab must transmit the analyses to the DEQ in an electronic form acceptable to the DEQ, no later than the first ten (10) days following the month in which the result is received or the first ten (10) days following the end of the required monitoring period. Testing required for compliance with turbidity treatment technique, disinfectant residual, temperature and pH requirements may be performed by a laboratory operator certified by the DEQ. Process control tests may be performed by a laboratory operator certified by the DEQ.~~

(a) Analytical testing. Compliance samples for microbiological, inorganic, organic and radioactive contaminants as well as corrosivity must be analyzed by a laboratory accredited by the DEQ. Testing required for compliance with alkalinity, calcium, conductivity, disinfectant residual, orthophosphate, pH, silica, temperature and turbidity may be performed by a laboratory operator certified by the DEQ.

(b) Laboratory reporting requirements. In addition to distributing final reports to the PWS as required in OAC 252:301 and 307, the laboratory must transmit data to the DEQ as follows:

~~Notwithstanding other provisions of this Chapter, samples that are not properly collected or submitted, not collected by trained and authorized personnel, not analyzed in an accredited laboratory, or samples that do not represent the distribution system must not be used to determine compliance with these regulations. Total coliform positive samples, which are due to improper analysis, domestic or other non distribution plumbing problems, or due to circumstances or conditions that do not reflect water quality in the distribution system must not be counted toward meeting minimum monitoring requirements. The DEQ must document the determination that there are circumstances or conditions that do not reflect water quality in the distribution system. A sample that produces a turbid culture in the absence of gas production, produces a turbid culture in the absence of an acid reaction, exhibits confluent growth, or produces colonies too numerous to count must be invalidated and replaced with another sample within twenty four (24) hours of notification by the state. DEQ must document the determination of circumstances or conditions that require samples to be invalidated.~~

252:631-3-10. Process control tests

Control tests must be performed in accordance with procedures approved by the DEQ.

(1) Surface water, groundwater under the direct influence of surface water, and springs.

(A) Systems that use coagulation, settling, softening or filtration must do the following chemical control tests on the filtered water twice a day, record the results on a report form provided or approved by the DEQ, and submit the form to the DEQ Water Quality Division each month, with a copy to the local DEQ representative:

(A) analyze the water twice a day for fluoride content, both before and after fluoridation;

(B) forward a copy of the analytical report (ODH form No. 561/DEQ form No. 631-001) to the DEQ monthly and keep a copy at the plant (ODH also requires a copy); and

(C) submit a sample of treated water to the DEQ State Environmental Laboratory, or to a DEQ-accredited laboratory, for analysis of fluoride content every month.

Site-specific hydrological and geological information which demonstrates that the proposed location does not lie in a prohibited area may be provided by an applicant. The DEQ may require site-specific hydrological and geological information for a facility proposed to be located outside a designated principal groundwater aquifer or recharge area where there is reason to believe the proposed location may be unsuitable due to localized groundwater conditions. Sources used to determine if a site is unpermittable are the "Map of Aquifers and Recharge Areas in Oklahoma", compiled by Kenneth S. Johnson, Oklahoma Geological Survey (1991), and the Oklahoma Water Resources Board rules codified at OAC 785:45 Appendices A through D, inclusively, or any successor map(s) to these sources.

- (2) Water wells. No permit shall be granted for a new Class I injection well facility proposed to be located within 1320 feet (one-quarter statute mile) of any public or private water supply well. Provided, however, that existing or proposed private water supply wells located on the applicant's property may be exempt from this paragraph at the applicant's discretion. Where proximity of a Class I facility to water supply well(s) is in doubt, a survey shall be conducted by an Oklahoma licensed land surveyor to determine actual distances.
- (3) Flood plain. No new Class I injection well facility shall be permitted in the 100 year flood plain unless the 100 year flood plain is subsequently redefined to not include the land area proposed for the new disposal area.
- (4) Surface water. ~~Except as provided by OAC 252:605, no~~ No permit shall be granted for a new Class I injection well facility proposed to be located within the established conservation pool elevation of any reservoir which supplies water for a public water supply.

SUBCHAPTER 11. CLASS V DRINKING WATER TREATMENT RESIDUAL WELLS

Date of CFR provisions incorporated by reference in these rules is changed to "as published on July 1, 2015".

Incorporating rules:

OAC 252:690-1-4

Availability:

The standards are on file at the Department of Environmental Quality, 707 North Robinson, Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, 73102, and are available to the public for examination Monday through Friday between the hours of 8:00 a.m. and 4:30 p.m.

ANALYSIS:

The proposed regulations will: (1) delete the term "CFU [colony forming units]" from this rule, which will allow the permit holder to choose from additional methods for bacteria testing and is in accordance with changes to Oklahoma's Water Quality Standards made by the Oklahoma Water Resources Board; (2) update the date of incorporation by reference of federal rules from July 1, 2014 to July 1, 2015, which will include the cooling water intake rule and the sufficiently sensitive method rule (SSMR) update for tests performed on wastewater effluent (For more discussion on the federal rule updates, see the Rule Impact Statement for OAC 252:606, before the Water Quality Management Advisory Council on January 12, 2016); (3) revoke "Appendix B. Priority and Nonpriority Pollutants with Numerical Criteria Requiring Reasonable Potential Screening" and replace with an amended version of Appendix B that includes updated minimum quantification levels (MQLs) for measuring the presence and level of various pollutants in wastewater discharges. DEQ has determined that updating the MQLs is the least burdensome way of implementing the SSMR for both DEQ and the regulated community. The SSMR is included in this proposed incorporation by reference as well as the incorporation by reference proposed in the rulemaking for OAC 252:606 and is intended to allow detection of pollutants at levels that will give a more accurate indication of compliance with water quality standards.

SUBCHAPTER 3. POINT SOURCE DISCHARGES

252:690-3-78. Implementation of bacteriological criteria to protect the Public and Private Water Supply beneficial use

Public and Private Water Supply bacteriological limitations apply at all times at a point of intake. However, for waters with the PBCR beneficial use, the PBCR bacteriological requirements are more stringent during the recreation season and limitations developed under 252:690-3-86 apply. Permits for point source discharges of bacteria that are located less than 5 stream miles upstream of a water supply intake or discharges to a lake located within 5 miles of a water supply intake will include a total coliform MAL of 5000-CFU/100 ml expressed as a geometric mean and a DML of 20,000-CFU/100ml. The limit does not apply to discharging lagoons in compliance with OAC 252:656-11-2(b) unless Water Quality Standards are violated.

252:690-3-86. Implementation of bacteriological criteria to protect the Primary Body Contact Recreation (PBCR) and the Secondary Body Contact Recreation (SBCR) beneficial use

(a) PBCR waterbodies - May 1 through September 30. When the use of a bacteriological indicator is determined to be necessary, the following bacteriological limitations shall apply from May 1 through September 30 to protect the PBCR beneficial use:

- (1) Escherichia coli (E. coli). When E. coli is the bacteriological indicator:
 - (A) The monthly geometric mean shall not exceed 126-CFU/100 ml.
 - (B) The daily maximum for lakes shall not exceed 235-CFU/100 ml.
 - (C) The daily maximum for all waterbodies other than lakes shall not exceed 406-CFU/100 ml.
- (2) Enterococci. When enterococci is the bacteriological indicator:
 - (A) The monthly geometric mean shall not exceed 33-CFU/100 ml.
 - (B) The daily maximum for lakes shall not exceed 61-CFU/100 ml.
 - (C) The daily maximum for all waterbodies other than lakes shall not exceed 108-CFU/100 ml.

(b) PBCR waterbodies - October 1 through April 30. When the use of a bacteriological indicator is determined to be necessary, the SBCR bacteriological limitations listed in (c) of this Section, shall apply from October 1 through April 30 to protect the PBCR beneficial use when the receiving stream is on the 303(d) list for bacteria.

(c) SBCR waterbodies. One of the following bacteriological limitations and monitoring requirements shall be used year round for permittees that discharge fecal coliform to waterbodies on the 303(d) list for bacteria:

- (1) Escherichia coli (E. coli). When E. coli is the bacteriological indicator:
 - (A) The monthly geometric mean shall not exceed 630-CFU/100 ml.
 - (B) The daily maximum for lakes shall not exceed 1175-CFU/100 ml.
 - (C) The daily maximum for all waterbodies other than lakes shall not exceed 2030-CFU/100 ml.
- (2) Enterococci. When enterococci is the bacteriological indicator:
 - (A) The monthly geometric mean shall not exceed 165-CFU/100 ml.
 - (B) The daily maximum for lakes shall not exceed 305-CFU/100 ml.
 - (C) The daily maximum for all waterbodies other than lakes shall not exceed 540-CFU/100 ml.

(d) Indicators used in WLA. Regardless of which bacteriological indicator was used in a permittee's WLA, the permit may contain either of the bacteriological indicators listed in (c) of this Section.

(e) Exception. This Section does not apply to discharging lagoons that were permitted and are being operated in compliance with OAC 252:656-11-2(b), unless Water Quality Standards are violated

SUBCHAPTER 5. GROUNDWATER PROTECTION

252:690-5-2. Discharge Standards

Discharge permit criteria allow the DEQ to include measures for the protection of groundwater quality, and require the responsible party to report all spills of reportable quantities and respond accordingly to protect waters of the state, which includes groundwater. Additionally, DEQ may add requirements for the protection of groundwater to general discharge permits. See OAC 252:605606 for these requirements.

Permanent Final Adoptions

APPENDIX B. PRIORITY AND NONPRIORITY POLLUTANTS WITH NUMERICAL CRITERIA REQUIRING REASONABLE POTENTIAL SCREENING [REVOKED]

APPENDIX B. PRIORITY AND NONPRIORITY POLLUTANTS WITH NUMERICAL CRITERIA REQUIRING REASONABLE POTENTIAL SCREENING [NEW]

The priority pollutants are listed in Table B-1. Those having state numerical criteria or federal numerical guidelines for the consumption of fish flesh (re: NRWQC), and which require reasonable potential screening if present in an effluent are marked with a diamond (♦). Pollutants with state numerical criteria are indicated according to type of criteria. Pollutants which have NRWQC human health/fish flesh guidelines are screened only if the Fish Consumption beneficial use applies to the discharge and there is no state criterion for the pollutant. Predicted exceedances of NRWQC guidelines will result in effluent and/or background monitoring. OWRB will be notified of pollutants predicted to exceed NRWQC guidelines in order to evaluate the need for a state water quality criterion. Nonpriority pollutants with state and federal criteria are listed in Table B-2. WET testing parameters and their STORET numbers are listed in Table B-3.

ANALYSIS:
The amendments to 270:10-1-8 set forth the requirement in 11 O.S. Section 49-101(B) for a member of the Oklahoma Firefighters Pension and Retirement System ("System") whose first date of employment with a participating employer of the System occurs on or after November 1, 2013 to be eligible for a paid vested benefit. The amendments to 270:10-1-8 also identify the amount of service time that may be corrected. The rule is amended to be consistent with changes to the System's statutes. The amendments also eliminate the rule regarding service credit for volunteer time for a volunteer firefighter who is appointed as a paid firefighter because the corresponding statute, 11 O.S. Section 49-108(B), was changed and this rule is no longer necessary. The amendments also modify the requirements for a disability pension for a volunteer firefighter who has completed ten (10) or more years of credited service to clarify that such a volunteer firefighter is entitled to the presumptions of 11 O.S. Section 49-110.

The amendments to 270:10-1-8 also modify the rules concerning payment options under the Deferred Option Plan and the Deferred Option Plan under the Back DROP Provision for members whose first period of employment with a participating employer of the System occurred before November 1, 2013. The rule is amended to reflect current practice.

The amendments to 270:10-1-8 clarify the definition of surviving spouse to be consistent with 11 O.S. Section 49-100.1(16). The amendments also clarify the payment options under 11 O.S. Section 49-106.1(G) if a trust is a beneficiary.

The amendments to 270:10-1-8 and 270:10-1-9 clarify that only non-Roth funds may be used to pay for reinstatement of prior service and the purchase of transferred credit service. The rule is amended to reflect current practice.

The amendments to 270:10-1-10 delete the rule for direct rollovers because 11 O.S. Section 49-106.3 has been updated with the requirements for a direct rollover making this rule unnecessary.

PURSUANT TO THE ACTIONS DESCRIBED HEREIN, THE FOLLOWING RULES ARE CONSIDERED FINALLY ADOPTED AS SET FORTH IN 75 O.S., SECTIONS 250.3(5) AND 308(E), WITH AN EFFECTIVE DATE OF SEPTEMBER 11, 2016:

- (2) In determining a paid member's normal retirement date, fractional round-up of months and days shall not be used even if the member has volunteer credited service.
- (3) If a member serves the majority of the final month of service, the final month will count as a full month of credited service.
- (4) Where longevity pay or other salary which requires contributions is paid in a lump sum to a member, only the amount that would have been paid for a member's last thirty (30) months of credited service will be used for determining final average salary.

years of credited service, such member would be eligible for a paid vested benefit, upon meeting the requirements set forth in 11 O.S. Section 49-117.1. The member whose first service with a participating employer of the System occurs prior to November 1, 2013, would need to complete ten (10) or more years as a volunteer member to be eligible to receive a vested volunteer benefit, and a member whose first service with a participating employer of the System occurs on or after November 1, 2013 would need to complete eleven (11) or more years as a volunteer member to be eligible to receive a vested volunteer benefit as set forth in 11 O.S. (4) Step-children and grandchildren of members are not beneficiaries unless they are adopted by the member.

(5) Children adopted prior to January 1, 1981, are considered beneficiaries even though the child(ren) may have been adopted after the member's retirement date.

(6) A valid marriage certificate or other necessary proof of marriage is required before an Application of Surviving Spouse for Pension can be considered by the State Board.

(f) Membership.

(1) A part-time firefighter shall not belong to the System.

(2) All firefighters must be members of the System if their employer is a participating municipality in the System.

(3) A candidate for a paid firefighter position must first complete a required State Board approved pre-employment physical performance/agility test and physical examination in order to participate and receive any benefits from the System. The physical examination will be reviewed by a physician, selected by the State Board, to determine if the applicant meets the required medical standards. When the System receives all the information necessary for entrance into the System, including the written notice from the physician, selected by the State Board, that the candidate has met the minimum medical requirements for entrance, the Executive Director shall have the authority to approve an entrance date for the candidate no earlier than the date all the necessary information for entrance is received or the actual hire date whichever is later, provided that the date between the time of the administration of the physical examination and the approval for membership in the System by the Executive Director and the candidate's actual hire date by the participating municipality is less than six (6) months. The State Board shall have the authority to deny or revoke the membership of a candidate submitting false information in such candidate's membership application and shall have the final authority in determining eligibility for membership in the System.

(4) An applicant for a paid firefighter position, who is an active volunteer firefighter with the same fire department, and who has passed the physical performance/agility test approved by the State Board as a condition for entrance as a volunteer firefighter shall only be required to pass the physical examination upon being employed as a paid firefighter if employed by the same fire department.

(5) A terminated paid firefighter who returns to work as a paid firefighter within six (6) months of his or her termination date will not be required to complete another physical examination.

(6) The classification of a paid firefighter shall be a firefighter who is carried on the city payroll as a paid firefighter and who receives a salary which is more than twice the amount of the minimum pension of a volunteer firefighter. Any firefighter making more than this amount will need to complete the required physical performance/agility test and physical exam and his or her employer must remit both the employee and employer contributions to the System.

(g) Credited Service.

(1) If a firefighter is off the participating municipality's payroll for a period of time and employer and employee contributions are not received by the System, that period of time will not count as credited service until said contributions are received by the System.

(2) New volunteer cities joining the System may purchase up to five (5) years of credited service for each member of the department at the annual rate in effect as of the date of purchase, provided verifiable evidence of active firefighter service for the purchased years for each individual is provided to the System. Even though a city is exempt from contributions, contributions must be paid for a volunteer firefighter to receive purchased credit.

(3) If a question arises concerning a member's correct amount of service time, the member must submit to the State Board three (3) affidavits, based upon the actual knowledge of the member's correct service time, and all other necessary documentation, as may be required by the State Board. The Chairman of the State Board may direct a member of the State Board or an employee of the System to visit the member and the city in question for further verification. Service time may be corrected to allow not more than twenty (20) years of service for a member of the Oklahoma Firefighters Pension and Retirement System whose first employment with a participating employer of the System occurs prior to November 1, 2013, or not more than twenty-two (22) years of service for a member of the Oklahoma Firefighters Pension and Retirement System whose first employment with a participating employer of the System occurs on or after November 1, 2013.

The volunteer firefighter shall be entitled to credit to the amount of credited service any remaining volunteer time, over and above the five (5) years of volunteer time, computed at one twentieth (1/20) of a volunteer pension of each additional volunteer year, but not to exceed thirty (30) years of credited service~~

~~(B) Pursuant to Subsection B of Section 49-108 of Title 11, any volunteer firefighter who is appointed as a paid firefighter before May 15, 1992, and serves ten (10) or more years as a paid firefighter, shall be entitled to credit all of the firefighter volunteer time as paid credited service to receive a paid service pension.~~

(h) Disability.

(1) Applications for disability pensions shall provide medical evidence certifying the disability, proof of injury unless otherwise provided, and that the applicant can no longer perform the duties of a firefighter. The proof of injury must be proof of the specific injury that prevented the disability pension applicant from continuing the duties of a firefighter from the time of injury until present. In a case where a disability applicant returned to performing the duties of a firefighter at any time following the injury, the proof of injury must be accompanied by proof that certifies cumulative evidence of a continuing condition relating to that specific injury until the time of filing the disability application. In a case where a firefighter returned to a "light duty" or "restricted duty" only status, proof certifying the disability applicant's work status from the injury time until present shall be submitted along with the disability application. The application shall be filed with the Local Board, if the Local Board exists, or the Executive Director of the System. The existing Local Board or the Executive Director of the System will determine if additional medical evidence is required. If additional medical evidence is required, the State Board shall be responsible for payment of any physical examinations and certifications.

(2) If any additional medical evidence is produced concerning a disability pension application, said medical evidence must be presented to the Local Board, if the Local Board exists, or the Executive Director before the State Board considers the application. If an applicant requests a hearing before the State Board, all evidence concerning the application may be presented providing all parties affected by the hearing agree.

(3) A stroke condition that has been medically certified to be caused by heart disease shall be categorized as heart disease for the purpose of applying line of duty presumptions pursuant to 11 O.S. §49-110.

(4) Any additional medical testing requested by a physician for the purpose of certification of a disability at the request of an existing Local Board shall be approved by the Executive Director of the System prior to the medical testing.

(5) A volunteer member who has completed more than ten (10) years of credited service shall be eligible for consideration of a disability in line of duty pension and entitled to the presumptions pursuant to the provisions of 11 O.S. § 49-110 provided that competent medical evidence is presented to support the certification of said disability request.

(6) A participating municipality may make an application for a disability pension on behalf of a member provided that medical evidence is presented supporting the existence of a disability. The member may present medical evidence to the contrary.

(7) If there are physician's statements presented which disagree or there is only one physician statement presented, then the Local Board, if one exists, or the Executive Director shall have the medical records examined by a physician of their choosing. If the participating municipality has made the application request and the member presents contrary medical evidence it shall be the responsibility of the existing Local Board or the Executive Director to obtain an authorization of release of medical records from the member prior to the third physician examination.

(i) Local Boards.

(1) If an existing Local Board desires to have a member, who is receiving a disability pension, re-examined by a physician for the purposes of certifying if a disability still exists, the request shall be approved by the State Board.

(2) An existing Local Board meets when necessary to review applications for benefits and disability benefits. The Local Board minutes must show action taken by roll call vote. In cities and towns where the city clerk and city treasurer hold both positions the local board becomes a five (5) member board. The board members shall elect a vice-chairman from among all board members who shall assume the duties of the mayor/chairman in that person's absence.

(3) Any action taken by the local board must be documented. The local board must present objective evidence to the State Board regarding its recommendation. The State Board will consider only the evidence actually presented. The State Board will act upon the evidence presented and render a final decision.

(4) If the city charter provides, the city council or similar authority, in the absence of the mayor, city clerk or the treasurer, may designate an authorized official as a replacement member of the local board, such as a vice-mayor if he or she has the responsibilities of the mayor. A firefighter member of the local board cannot send a replacement. Only local board members present at a local board meeting may vote. The chairman shall have a casting vote with the members only when necessary to avoid a tie vote among local board members. All local board meetings are subject to the Open Meeting Act.

(j) Contributions.

(1) There shall be a sixty (60) day waiting period of refund of contributions. If the firefighter requesting the refund of contributions was terminated from service, which resulted in litigation or administrative action, the refund of contributions will not be made until there is a final judgment or conclusion to the litigation or administrative action.

(2) Gross salary shall include but not be limited to base salary, longevity pay, fire service training and other education pay, scuba pay, out of class pay, one time bonus pay earned during the current twelve (12) month period of employment, and buy back pay when paid on an annual basis and available to all firefighters. Gross salary shall not include payment for unscheduled overtime, payment for accumulated sick, annual or any other similar leave upon termination from employment, any uniform or clothing allowance, car allowance or any other compensation for reimbursement of out-of-pocket expenses. All other compensation not specifically mentioned must have contributions paid on them. Contributions shall be deducted from gross salary prior to federal and state income tax withholdings deductions.

(3) Volunteer pension contributions are due on July 1 of each year. Cities, towns or fire protection districts subject to the statutory exemption from payment of volunteer contributions shall file for the exemption with the System on an annual basis.

(4) Workers Compensation benefits shall not be considered a part of gross salary for the purpose of determining pension benefits. The System will not accept member contributions related to workers compensation.

(5) If a paid member terminated employment prior to January 1, 1981, and then subsequently returns to work as a paid member after January 1, 1981 and then again terminates, contributions paid in prior to January 1, 1981 would not be refundable.

(6) Salary means a predetermined sum payable at specified and regular times for services rendered, including benefits accumulated and paid as salary; furthermore, any salary received that is to be used in computing a "final average salary" shall be reduced or pro-rated to a monthly amount. It shall be a violation of this section to establish a special pay plan for the purpose of evading the intent of this section.

(k) Reinstatement of Prior Service.

(1) If a paid firefighter terminates employment and receives a refund of contributions and then subsequently returns to work for a participating municipality, all withdrawn contributions must be paid back to the System plus 10 percent (10%) interest per annum (from the date the member received his or her accumulated contributions to the date of repayment) in order for the member to receive credit for the missed credited service time.

(2) The member's payment must be made to the System within ninety (90) days following acceptance of the member's application for reinstatement of prior service.

(3) The member may pay for reinstatement of prior service by a lump-sum payment by check or money order. ~~Effective January 1, 2002, the~~ The member may also pay for reinstatement of prior service by a lump-sum payment (with interest) of non-Roth funds from a Code Section 403(b) annuity, a governmental 457 plan within Oklahoma or a Code Section 401(a) qualified plan.

(l) Deferred Option Plan (Plan B).

(1) Upon termination of employment, a member participating in the Deferred Option Plan (Plan B) pursuant to 11 O.S. Section 49-106.1 A, B, C, D, E and F shall have the following options:

(A) Receive a lump sum payment of the member's total account balance, a partial lump sum payment or withdrawal, or installment payments of the member's accumulated Plan B balance ~~as described below. Direct rollovers are permitted pursuant to the provisions of 11, O.S. Section 49-106.3.~~

(B) The State Board retains custody of the member's remaining accumulated Plan B balance until the member receives a complete and final payout. No more than once a ~~quarter of any one year month~~, the member may elect, with ~~fifteen (15)~~ eight (8) working days advance written notice, to change such payout period or payout amount for installment payments.

(C) In addition to the installment payments, a member may elect, with ~~seven (7)~~ eight (8) working days advance written notice, a withdrawal, but no more than one such withdrawal may be made per ~~quarter in any one year month~~ and each withdrawal must be as of the ~~first~~ last working day of a month. If such withdrawal is made after installment payments have commenced ~~under (B) above~~, appropriate adjustments may be made in the installment payout period ~~under (B) above~~ to reflect such withdrawal.

(D) If the member dies with a balance in the account, such balance will be paid in a lump sum or will continue to be paid in the same manner as was applicable to the member, as elected by the surviving spouse who meets the requirements of paragraph 16 of O.S. Section 49-100.1. If there is no surviving spouse, any remaining beneficiaries shall receive a lump sum payment(s) from the account equal to the balance in the account of the member or any other approved method of payment. If there are no surviving beneficiaries, a lump sum payment from the account equal to the balance in the account shall be paid to the member's estate. For purposes of this subparagraph, if a trust is the beneficiary (even if the surviving spouse is a beneficiary under such trust), the deceased member's account balance may not remain in the Deferred Option Plan (Plan B) after the member's death.

(E) The interest earned annually on the Plan B account balances shall be calculated based on the return of the investment portfolio of the fund on June 30 of each year. The determined annual interest rate shall be applied on a pro rata account balance in the year the rate is established. If a member withdraws all or a portion of his or her account balance prior to June 30 of a given plan year, the member shall receive at the time of withdrawal interest earnings on the withdrawn amount equal to the actuarial assumed interest rate as certified by the actuary in the yearly valuation report of the actuary on a pro rata basis. If the annual interest earnings calculated on June 30 of a given year exceed the actuarial assumed interest rate as certified by the actuary in the yearly valuation report of the actuary, a member who withdraws all or a portion of his or her account balance prior to June 30 of said plan year shall receive additional interest earnings equal to the difference between the minimum actuarial interest rate and the calculated interest rate on a pro rata basis.

(F) At the conclusion of a member's participation in Plan B, the member must terminate employment and shall start receiving the member's accrued monthly retirement benefit from the System. Such a member may be reemployed by a participating municipality but only in a position not covered by the System, and receive in-service distributions of such member's accrued monthly benefit from the System.

(2) Participation in the Oklahoma Firefighters Deferred Option Plan must begin the first day of a month.

(3) For a lump sum payment, direct rollover or a combination thereof, which is paid when the regular monthly benefits commence (Plan A), an exclusion ratio must be calculated and applied to the distribution amount from Plan B to determine the portion that may be excluded from income. This exclusion ratio will equal the member's after-tax contributions to the System divided by the expected return. The expected return is the sum of: (1) the member's accumulated Plan B balance plus (2) the amount of the value of the monthly pension from Plan A that the member is expected to receive over time based on single life expectancy factors from Table V issued as part of the income tax regulations under Section 72 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986.

(4) The rules under this subsection shall only apply to a member whose first employment with a participating employer of the System occurred before November 1, 2013.

(m) Deferred Option Plan under the Back DROP Provision.

(1) For purposes of this subsection, the definitions as stated in 11 O.S. Section 49-106.1(H)(1) shall apply.

(2) In lieu of participating in the Deferred Option Plan (Plan B) pursuant to subsections A, B, C, D, E, ~~F~~ and ~~FG~~ of 11 O.S. Section 49-106.1 (referred to herein as an election under Plan B), a member may elect to participate in the Deferred Option Plan pursuant to 11 O.S. Section 49-106.1(H) (referred to herein as an election under the Back DROP provision) and this subsection.

(A) The applicant must submit his or her completed application for participation in the Deferred Option Plan under the Back DROP provision on the form provided by the System.

(B) The application must be received by the System no later than ~~seven (7)~~ eight (8) working days from the end of the month in order to receive a payment at the end of that month. All distributions shall be paid on the last working day of a month.

(C) Upon the member's election to participate in the Deferred Option Plan under the Back DROP provision, the member's account balance shall remain in the System under the same conditions as while an active member, ~~unless the member requests a withdrawal until distributed.~~

~~(D) A member may receive a withdrawal as a lump sum payment or monthly installment payments. A member may also elect, with seven (7) working days written notice, a withdrawal, but no more than one such withdrawal may be made per quarter in any one year and each withdrawal must be as of the first day of a month.~~

(D) A member in the Back DROP has the same distribution options as described in (1)(1)(A), (B) and (C) of this Section.

(E) If the member dies with a balance in the account, such balance will be paid in a lump sum or will continue to be paid in the same manner as was applicable, as elected by the surviving spouse who meets the requirements of paragraph 16 of 11 O.S. Section 49-100.1. If there is no surviving spouse, any remaining beneficiaries shall receive a lump sum payment(s) from the account equal to the balance in the account of the member, or any other approved method of payment. ~~If~~ For purposes of this subparagraph, if a trust is the beneficiary (even if the surviving spouse is a beneficiary under such trust), the deceased member's account balance may not remain in the Deferred Option Plan (Plan B) after the member's death.

The expected return is the sum of: (1) the member's deferred benefit balance plus (2) the amount of the value of the monthly pension from Plan A that the member is expected to receive over time based on single
